EDC Supporters Push For Delay In Debate

France May Work Out Compromise

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS, Aug. 27 (AP) — A group of staunch supporters of EDC tonight waged a behind the scenes battle to save the European army from what they consider almost certain death in the French National Assembly.

They were striving to force a short postponement in the long delayed debate to permit further negotiations for changes in the European Defense Community treaty.

After a four-hour Cabinet meeting this afternoon, Premier Pierre Mendes-France told reporters the discussion would start tomorrow as scheduled. But highly placed informants later disclosed the government might be willing to accept a delay.

The fact that Mendes-France had kept his Cabinet from disintegrating was taken as a favorable sign that some sort of compromise might be in the works.

Mendes-France is plagued by the same divisions within his government that has prevented his predecessors from bringing the treaty before the National Assembly.

In previous governments, it was always the anti - EDC element which threatened to resign whenever a move was made to start ratification. Now the pro-EDC groups are bringing the pressure on the Premier. Severe pressure has been put on about six ministers to resign in protest against Mendes-France's hands-off policy toward EDC.

Former Premiers Rene Mayer, Paul Reynaud and Robert Schuman are among the group maneuvering for more time and modifications in the treaty to woo supporters.

After two days of rushing from one meeting to another, they drew up a resolution this afternoon calling for new negotiations before Sept. 15 and adjournment of the debate until talks with the other five EDC partners are concluded.

The changes which are outlined in the resolution are much milder in tone and substance than those presented — and rejected — at the Brussels conference. Faced with a new negotiation and a new possibility for saving EDC, the other five nations—Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—might feel they could accept the changes outlined in this resolution.

The objections which the other five nations made to Mendes-France's proposals were:

They watered down the supranational characteristics of the treaty; they discriminated against Germany; many would require re-ratification by the national parliaments of the countries which had already ratified.

The resolution prepared today by the pro-EDC group seemed to avoid these criticisms. The modifications probably could be made by the foreign ministers of the six nations simply in interpreting the treaty and putting it into effect.

$250,000 Safe Burglary Denied

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—The wealthy victim of safe burglars said today they wasted their time—far from getting a quarter of a million dollars worth of loot, they got not a nickle's worth.

Hans Lichtenstern, a resident alien whose Bronx home was the target of the thieves, said the safe was empty of valuables.

The original police report on the robbery said the safe bulged with a quarter of a million dollars worth of securities and currency.

"Absolutely untrue," Lichtenstern told a reporter today. "There wasn't a nickel in the safe."

It did hold bankbooks recording some $200,000 in deposits — which apparently sparked the incorrect estimate of loot.

Legion Urged To Alter View On Manpower

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—A member of Congress' Joint Committee on Atomic Energy today told the American Legion, which strongly favors Universal Military Training, it should alter its views to meet the needs of the atomic age.

Rep. Hinshaw (R-Calif) called on the veterans' organization, in a speech before its National Security Commission, to look again at manpower policies and "be critical of the demands of the military on our nation's manpower."

Hinshaw, saying the scientist must outrank the soldier in an age when "true pushbutton warfare" may be imminent, spoke out as Legion policy makers drafted defense and other resolutions to be laid before the 36th national convention opening here Monday.

National Commander Arthur J. Connell, in an annual report made public today, reaffirmed the Legion's support for a UMT program and voiced hope Congress will enact one as soon as final recommendations have been made by the National Security Council.

Another pre-convention speaker, Asst. Secretary of State Livingston T. Merchant, told the Legion group the United States cannot "go it alone" in world affairs "because there is nowhere to go."

The State Department official said there is an excellent chance of holding communism in check, and "eventually attracting enslaved peoples to freedom without another world war," if the United States and the free nations of Europe work in harmony.

Today's opening session of the three - day preliminary meeting came as legionnaires by the thousand poured into the capital for what is expected to be the biggest convention in their history. Some 150,000 are expected for the annual parade Tuesday.

Raid Described As Propaganda

TAIPEH, Saturday, Aug. 28 (AP)—Red China has thrown the spotlight on Quemoy, strongest Nationalist-garrisoned island athwart the China coast, with a propaganda broadcast yesterday that 40 Communist soldiers staged a hit-run raid there Monday night.

There was no indication that the raid was a prelude to the Reds' widely heralded threat of invading Formosa, 120 miles to the east.

Peiping radio said the soldiers made two separate landings, killed 11 Nationalist soldiers and captured one before withdrawing to the mainland 15 miles away.

Quemoy is off Amoy port on the southeast China coast.

A high Nationalist military source in Taipeh said the Communists were playing a clever propaganda game in focusing attention of Quemoy as the center of a dreamed-up crisis.

New Military-Political Crisis Is Facing Brazil

By STANFORD BRADSHAW

RIO DE JANIERO, Brazil, Aug. 27 (AP)—President Joao Cafe Filho squared up today to a new military - political crisis, stemming from the deep-seated disturbances that led to the ouster and suicide of Getulio Vargas, his predecessor.

Highlighting the situation was a bitter statement from Gen. Zenobio da Costa, war minister in the Vargas regime, accusing the generals now backing Cafe of having broken their promises to keep backing Vargas. A sharp schism in the armed forces appeared to be continuing.

Politically, Cafe's efforts to form an all-party government met setbacks as he sought to find a temporary congressional base for his administration. He must attempt to placate political and military factions striving for power in the vacuum left by the death at 71 of the iron man who had ruled Brazil through most of the last quarter century.

Also confronting the three-day-old government was the possibility of a general strike.

Da Costa's attack on the military men supporting Cafe said he had been prepared to lead part of the army against other factions of the army, navy and air force to fulfill pledges made to Vargas to uphold the constitution. He made his charge of betrayal in a statement submitted to the new minister of war, Gen. Henrique Baptista Teixeira.

Vargas was forced by high army and air officers to step down as president Tuesday. Four hours later he put a bullet through his heart. Da Costa said Vargas agreed to leave the presidency to prevent bloodshed.

In Rio today the question was being asked whether Vargas' last letter was written with suicide in mind or in view of the possibility he might be slain in a palace revolt. The 600-word letter, signed in Vargas' own hand, accused international interests of joining his domestic foes to prey on the Brazilian people.

Jose Maciel Filho, head of the superintendency of money and credit, was quoted as saying Vargas had been thinking of suicide eight days before his death and had the letter typed out by Maciel's secretary. But he signed it.

Da Costa's statement also added a disciplinary problem to the new government's headaches. It presumably must be answered in some way, but any direct move against him would cause difficulties. To leave the charge unanswered, however, would be interpreted as a sign of weakness.

Provoo's Treason Conviction Is Upset By Appeals Court

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—A federal appeals court today upset John D. Provoo's treason conviction and life sentence, one of the weirdest to come out of World War Two. A new trial was ordered.

The U. S. Court of Appeals unanimously said the case never should have been tried in New York, and that the government wrongfully insinuated before the jury that the former Army sergeant was homosexual.

It was left to the Department of Justice to decide whether to retry the case in Maryland, which the court ruled was its proper setting. Provoo was an Army prisoner there before he was brought to New York and arrested for treason.

The reversal wiped out a million-dollar government investment. With witnesses brought from all over the world, it cost the government that much to convict the handsome, square-jawed 36-year-old former San Francisco bank clerk.

Provoo was convicted Feb. 1, 1953, of broadcasting wartime propaganda for the Japanese, of abusing fellow American soldiers in wartime Pacific hell camps, and of causing the death of Army Capt. Burton C. Thomson of Sea City, Iowa, by informing on him to their Japanese captors.

He was liable to the death penalty. But Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan spared his life and gave him the maximum prison sentence instead. Provoo has since been held in the federal detention house here.

A highlight of the trial was introduction of a letter Provoo had written to his mother in which he said, "I am guilty."

"I must have been out of my head," was Provoo's reaction at the time.

At the fall of Corregidor in 1942, the government charged, Provoo doffed his khaki uniform and donned the white priestly robes of Buddhism, the 2,500-year-old Oriental religion of reincarnation.

Then the government contended, he went over to the Japanese side, allegedly picturing himself someday as puppet ruler in a world controlled by the Axis Nations. Provoo denied aiding the Japanese, except under pain of death if he disobeyed his captors.

Carolinas Alerted For Hurricane

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 27 (AP)—Carol, the season's third tropical storm, suddenly sprouted to a full grown hurricane today and all interests in North Carolina and South Carolina were alerted.

After waltzing along the Florida coast for more than a day the storm suddenly picked up speed about 310 miles east of Jacksonville. Winds of 115 miles an hour over a small area near the center were reported at 6 p.m.

Lt. E. J. Casey, aerologist on a hurricane hunter plane which made a reconnaissance today, reported a flock of sea gulls trapped in the near calm of the hurricane's eye—the center around which winds whirl counter clockwise. Navy men said a similar instance occurred last year but the fate of the birds was unknown.

Another plane was ordered out tonight to keep radar reconnaissance of the storm until daylight.

Goodyear Union Gets 6-Cent Hike

CLEVELAND, Aug. 27 (AP)—Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and the CIO United Rubber Workers reached an agreement today granting 23,000 production workers wage increases of at least 6 cents an hour, to end a 51-day strike in the company's 10 plants.

The formula could serve as a wage pattern for most of the industry. One source close to the negotiations said Goodyear's annual payroll would go up about $6,500,000.

Driver Hurt In Series Of Collisions

A DURHAM, N. C. man was hospitalized last night at Monroe County General Hospital after a multi-car accident at Eagle Valley Corner.

Admitted to the hospital was Robert Prince Jr., of 622 Troy St., Durham.

Borough police from East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg State police both investigated the accident. Reason: some of the vehicles were inside the borough line; others outside the limits.

East Stroudsburg police said the car driven by Prince hit a parked car. The parked car was driven over a lawn on property owned by Robert Irvin, borough police said.

About $500 damage was done to both cars, borough police reported. Also involved in the accident, but suffering less damage, were "two or three" other cars, borough police said.

Investigation of the accident is being continued, they said. State police said they were investigating a report that Prince was driving the vehicle without consent of the owner, Floyd Raskmill, Malibu Ranch, Milford.

Prince was apparently not seriously injured, the hospital said. He was admitted to the hospital for examination and observation, they reported.

GOP Leaders Take Action To Halt Dispute

HARRISBURG, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Republican state organization stepped into the factional GOP situation in Allegheny County today, naming Herbert A. May as county campaign chairman for the 1954 campaign.

Miles Horst, Republican state chairman, made the appointment after consulting Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood, GOP candidate for governor. Horst emphasized that May would act only until the November election.

Horst and Wood acted because of two Republican factions in Allegheny County.

38th Annual Exhibition Ends Tonight

NEWFOUNDLAND — The 38th annual Greene-Dreher Fair had a "very good" second day yesterday. Attendance was estimated at 4,000.

Prizewinners were selected in each of the fair's 16 departments in which competition was held. Visitors began arriving on the midway early in the morning, but the major portion of the activity occurred during the afternoon hours.

As always, the biggest attraction at the community fair was the showing of farm crops, baked goods and livestock entered by area farmers and housewives.

There were 1,692 entries in this year's fair. The total is 68 higher than last year's, fair officials said.

Competition was keen and close in all departments, judges declared. Grand prizes were awarded in each separate deartment to the entrant with the largest number of first prize awards.

Long lines of visitors filed through the main exhibition hall across the driveway from the Greene-Dreher-Sterling School. The hall housed more than 1,000 individual entries in the field of farm products, needlework and home preserved foods.

Along the midway itself, there were rides for the youngsters, ice cream stands where small children could buy cones and "sandwiches" large enough to require both hands and a wide open mouth and the traditional stands where housewives-turned-waitresses brewed piping-hot fragrant coffee and grilled man-size hamburgers to serve on toasted buns.

Off to the side a group of area boys played baseball, watched intently by a band of adults and small girls.

Judging The 1,692 entries in the 16 departments of the fair were:

Needlework, Miss Miriam Lark, Stroudsburg.

Baked Goods, Mrs. Betty Parks, Scranton.

Canned Goods, Junior Department, Home Economics, Mrs. Doris Blitz, Milford.

Jams, Jellies and Preserves, Mrs. Gwen Burch, Montrose.

Farm Crops, Vocational Farm Crops, Wilmer Frisbie, Stroudsburg; Joseph Park, Honesdale.

Frozen Foods, Mrs. Dorothy Dixon, Scranton; Miss Arlene Beardsley, Honesdale.

Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wood, Miss Marie Rumpp, Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, of Philadelphia.

Livestock, Vocational Livestock, Henry Pluto, Pleasant Mount; Everett Michlow, Lakewood.

Poultry, Vocational Poultry, Kenneth MacKaskie, Honesdale.

There was much to attract the family out for a day's lazy fun. But the center of interest was the competition for prizes and when the judging was over, these were the lists that caused exclamations

World Church Group Drafts Program Of Evangelism To Carry Gospel To All People

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 27 (AP)—An alliance of the world's Christians today charted a broad program to bring mankind "into captivity" of Christ.

In a 4,000-word blueprint for evangelism, the World Council of Churches called on churches to break out of "isolation and introversion" and carry the Gospel to the world.

In God's work, said the message, "We are his agents."

The message, commended to the churches of 163 denominations in 48 nations, sets forth a number of specific steps for strengthening Christianity on a largely non-Christian earth.

There were demands that the program include Christian education in public schools, but a flurry of opposition checked this proposal, at least for the time being.

It came from Canon R.K. Nayler, of Montreal, Canada, who said that, "Where Christian education is not given in our day schools, there is one-sided education."

Dr. Reuben Nelson, executive of the American Baptist Convention, maintained the Council should not go on record as favoring such a controversial policy "in this country."

He was supported by Charles P. Taft, Cincinnati, an Episcopalian, and Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, of Washington, who termed the issue highly complex in America.

"It seems to me clear that it is impossible to state in any brief way the feeling of the assembly on this," Taft said.

Oxnam said that if such an unqualified demand were made, other faiths—such as Buddhism and Judaism—could just as well ask that their religions be taught in the public schools.

Dr. Henry P. Van Dusen, president of New York's Union Theological Seminary, called the problem an "intra-American" one, revolving on methods for having Christian education in schools.

The issue was left over for a later committee report to the Assembly, which went on to approve the evangelism report urging a stronger Christian "encounter with the world."

ILA Declared Winner Of Dock Election

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP) — The International Longshoremen's Assn. today won a bitter, months-long struggle for recognition as bargaining agent for the port of New York's 25,000 dock workers.

The National Labor Relations Board announced it would certify the Independent ILA as winner of a representation election against a rival AFL union.

From a practical point of view, the outcome of the election represented a sharp setback for the AFL and a boost for the United Mine Workers chief, John L. Lewis.

The AFL expelled the ILA last September on grounds that it was dominated by racketeers. Lewis lent heavy financial support to the orphaned union in its struggle with a rival union setup by the AFL in an attempt to wrest jurisdiction over East Coast waterfronts.

The chief of the victorious union said today that although Lewis had attached no strings to his support, the ILA may affiliate itself with the UMW.

ILA President William V. Bradley said after today's decision the union would move immediately to resume bargaining with New York shippers. The longshoremen had been without a contract since September.

School Board Rescinds Agreement To Hire Michael Sabatine As Teacher At Bangor

BANGOR—In the face of "new information received by the board," the new Bangor Area Joint School Board held a special meeting yesterday to rescind its agreement to hire Michael Sabatine, Roseto, as a teacher.

Sabatine was charged with practicing medicine (as a chiropractor) without a license in Northampton County. He entered a plea of guilty in county court; was fined $300 and given a suspended sentence on May 24.

When Bangor board met Wednesday, Sabatine was hired to teach social studies in grades seven and eight. The board made one stipulation — that Sabatine give up his practice.

Yesterday's special meeting was held in the office of school board solicitor Edmund Turtzo in Bangor.

A motion was made by Dr. Nicholas Cascario, one of the five board members who voted for Sabatine's hiring on Wednesday night, to withhold a teaching contract from Sabatine.

The motion was seconded by Cornell Wallwork. He also voted for Sabatine Wednesday.

All six (out of seven) board members in attendance voted in favor of the motion. It was declared passed unanimously.

It was reported that the special meeting — and the motion which came from it — were the results of "new information received by the board." Board members said a hearing will be held "in the near future" to form a definite decision on Sabatine's teaching status with the school.

Members who attended yesterday's meeting were Cascario, Wallwork, David Stoddard, Marvin DePamphilis, Frank DePaolo and Quintus LeBar.

LeBar was the only member of the board who openly opposed Sabatine's election at the Wednesday night meeting. Stoddard, who is president of the joint board (Bangor-Roseto), was recorded as "not voting" on the issue.

Bishop Corson To Address Mountainhome Church Service

Methodists To Conclude Centennial

TOMORROW will mark the completion of the special services which have been held throughout the summer by the Mountainhome Methodist Church in celebration of "One Hundred Years of Worship in Montainhome." Rev. Harold N. MacMurray, pastor, announces that for this "Home-Coming Sunday" Bishop Fred Pierce Corson of the Philadelphia Area of The Methodist Church will be present and bring a message at a special afternoon service at 3:30.

Bishop Corson is recognized throughout the world as an outstanding Christian leader. Before being elected to the episcopacy, in 1944, he had been president of Dickinson College, Carlisle, for ten years, following a term as district superintendent in the New York East Conference of the Methodist Church, in which conference he had held several successful pastorates. The Philadelphia Area includes the Philadelphia, New Jersey and Wyoming Valley Annual Conferences.

Bishop Corson's leadership has resulted in a steady growth of spiritual life of the more than seven hundred churches in his area.

Bishop Corson has served as president of the Council of Bishops, and is currently president of the General Board of Education of his church. He also holds many other important posts, including a current term as vice-president of the Association of Methodist Historical Societies, vice-chairman of the Commission on the Structure of Methodism Overseas, and vice-chairman for the Methodist Church in the United States on the World Methodist Council.

He represents his denomination on the General Board of the Council of Churches of Christ in America, and has been a delegate to the meeting, just closed this week, of the World Council of Churches, in Evanston, Ill.

Among his activities in fields other than the Methodist Church, he is president of the Board of Trustees of Temple University, and, during the time that Robert L. Johnson, president of the university, was in government service, Bishop Corson served as president pro tem of the university. Twelve honorary degrees have been conferred on him by colleges and universities throughout the country.

Twice, the United States Government has sent Bishop Corson abroad on important missions, the most recent having been within the past year. On that trip he met with chaplains on the far-flung outposts of Korea, Japan, Formosa and India. During one 21-day period on this trip, he spoke 60 times. He also consulted with outstanding world leaders, including Prime Minister Nehru of India, Generalissimo Chang Kai-shek of Nationalist China, and President Syngman Rhee of Korea.

Bishop Corson is the author of three significant books—"The Pattern of a Church," "Your Church and You," and "Pattern for Successful Living." He was editor of the recently published edition of John Wesley's Translation of the New Testament. A new book from his pen, "The Christian Imprint" is about to come from the press.

The other services of "Home-Coming Sunday" will attract former members and friends. In the morning, the pastor will preach on "We Work Together," and following the morning service a dinner will be served to members and friends. To take care of the expected crowd, the church has rented the facilities of the adjoining YMCA Building.

At this dinner, members who have belonged to the church for more than 50 years continuously will be honored. These include Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Mick, Mrs. Grace S. Case, Mrs. Jennie D. Geissinger, Mrs. Olive Price Slocum, Miss Margaret Shafer, Miss M. Anna Case, Harry E. Heller, Mrs. Laura Buck Price, Mrs. Harvey W. Gilner, Miss Clara French and Mrs. Lena F. Swaine.

Following Bishop Corson's sermon, a musical vesper hour will be held under the direction of Mrs. Harry L. Shinnen, organist. Members and friends will be asked to take part in the dedication of a plaque marking the building in which some of the first services of the church were held, before a church building was erected. This was the home of Harrison Sebring, and is located on Mill Creek Road, east of the Canadensis Road; it is now occupied by the Charles Evans family.

At 7:30 p.m. there will be a service of recollection and song, with former ministers and members taking part. Congregational singing will be led by Martin Baumgartner.

Rev. Snelgrove To Give Sermons

PARADISE VALLEY — Rev. Harold J. Snelgrove, pastor of Assembly of God Church here will discuss "The World's Greatest Need" at 11 a.m. services. Sunday school will be at 10 a.m.

An evangelistic service will start at 7 p.m. The minister's subject will be "Taking Another's Place." Special music and group singing will be featured.

Bishop Fred P. Corson

Rev. Slider To Address Presbyterians

REV. HOWARD Slider will speak on "Ology" at the Sunday morning service in East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church. He is serving as guest pastor in the absence of Rev. Frank W. Wingerter.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Hughes are on the welcoming committee.

Third Sermon On Prayer To Be Delivered

THE THIRD in a series of sermons on "Prayer" will be delivered at the 11 a.m. service Sunday in Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, by Rev. William F. Wunder. His sermon theme will be "To Whom The Lord Is Rich" and will be based on Romans 10:12 ("The same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon Him.") Applications of this Pauline letter will be drawn for every day life.

Flowers will be placed by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chester in honor of their children and grandchildren. The bulletins will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford R. Kintner in honor of their 16th wedding anniversary and in honor of Marion's birthday. David Smith, Milton Walton, Wilson Luckey and Thomas I. Kintner will serve as ushers. The nursery will be in charge of Miss Carol Melvin and Mrs. Helen Melvin. Douglas Townsend Jr. and Douglas Metzgar will serve as acolytes.

The chancel choir, under the direction of Carroll R. All, will sing an anthem, with Miss Charlotte Herman singing the soprano solo.

Church School will be conducted at 9:45 a.m. The lesson theme will be "Growth Through Christian Service."

Curt Andrew Baymor, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Baymor of East Stroudsburg RD1 will be baptized at 3:30 p.m. Sunday. At 4 p.m. James Richard Smith, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Smith of 568 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, will be baptized. Pastor Wunder will administer the baptismal rites to both these boys.

Vesper worship will be conducted at 8 p.m. in St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Cragis Meadow.

Kresgeville

Mrs. W. E. Andrews

REV. Fred Dirk, Schuylkill County, will again conduct the services in the Middle Creek EUB church on Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. at which time the annual Harvest Home services will be held.

The following will celebrate their birthdays this week—Mrs. W. E. Andrews, Raylene Andrews, Mrs. Craigen Mitchell, Mrs. Richard Schaffer, Robert Gregory, Joan and Joseph Kibler, Ronald Mackes, Mrs. John Kleintop, John Christman, Ruth Ann Frable, Lois Rudelitch and Billy Baumgartner.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stauffer celebrated their fourth wedding anniversary on Thursday August 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eckhart celebrated their 44th wedding anniversary on August 27.

World Council Of Churches Theme To Be Emphasized At E.S. Methodist Service

THE SUNDAY MORNING worship in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church is planned in cooperation with the second assembly of the World Council of Churches now in progress in Evanston, Ill.

The theme of that assembly will be the basis of the pastor's sermon—"Christ, The Hope Of The World." Rev. Harold C. Eaton announces that the call to worship and opening devotions will follow that theme.

Leonard Kranendonk will be the soloist.

The kindergarten will be in charge of Miss Patty Williams and Miss Shirley Applegate. Hosts and hostesses for the service will be Mr. and Mrs. Percy Marvin and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Treible.

The service at 7 p.m. will be held outdoors at Analomink Lake. The pastor will speak on "Fishers Of Men"—the call of Peter, James and John. Music will be provided by a double quartet. Congregational singing will be led by Paul Bartholomew and trumpeters.

Transportation will be provided at the rear of the church until 6:30 p.m .

Ministers Seek Piano For Use At Hospital

A PIANO is wanted by the Monroe County Ministerial Association for use in the religious services at the General Hospital. Anyone having a good piano to sell or donate is asked to contact Rev. Roger C. Stimson or Rev. B. H. Hostetter.

Rev. Rinehart To Deliver Sermon Here

TOMORROW MORNING in the First Presbyterian Church, Stroudsburg, the speaker will be Rev. Graham T. Rinehart, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Berwick.

Mr. Rinehart is a native of Stroudsburg, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rinehart. Mrs. Rinehart is the former Thelma Acker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Acker.

Mr. Rinehart will speak on "The Christian Hope." A vocal trio composed of Mrs. Margaret Imbt, Mrs. Mildred Lee and Miss Helen Smith, will sing. Vernon Imbt will be at the console of the organ.

Flowers wil be placed in memory of Brinton P. Allen by his family.

Rev. Whitmore Opens Services

REV. WILLIAM Whitemore, Piqua, O., former pastor of East Stroudsburg Pilgrim Holiness Church, opened a series of evangelistic services last night at God's Tabernacle, located near Forrest Inn on the Lehighton-Palmerton road.

Services will continue nightly at 7:45 until Sept. 6, and on Sunday and Labor Day at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m.

Music will be provided by the church trio and church band.

Zion Church Announces Services

"LIVING IN a Large Room" will be the subject of the sermon to be preached in Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church, Stroudsburg, tomorrow at 11 a.m. by Rev. Frank H. Blatt, minister.

Miss Cynthia Fellencer, pianist, and Mrs. Lucy Quig, organist, will play the prelude.

Rev. Stimson Announces Sermon Topic

THE SERMON at the morning service in the Stroudsburg Methodist Church will be on the "Word Hid in the Heart." Modern psychology is in agreement with the teaching of Christ on the importance of attitudes and hidden motives, and the pastor will point out that ideals and fears alike deeply influence actions.

Mrs. Edith Metzgar, who is playing on the organ during the vacation of Albert J. Fregans, will offer three numbers. The quartet will sing two selections.

Flowers will be given by the Flory Class in memory of departed members of their class. The Nursery will be conducted by Mrs. Irvin Price and Mrs. Jack Price.

The community vesper service will be held at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Stimson will continue his sermons on prayer by speaking on "Pathways of Prayer." Robert Altemose, tenor, will sing. Mrs. Katharine Stiff, assistant organist, will play for the Service.

'Discovery' Topic Chosen By Minister

REV. DR. P. N. Wohlsen, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church will preach on "A Great Discovery," a sermon based on the Gospel narrative of the two men who went to The Temple to pray. This service at 11 a.m. Sunday will be the only church service for the day.

Miss Eleanor Decker, organist, will furnish special organ music and Mrs. Marjorie Barnes, contralto soloist of the choir, will sing an appropriate solo. The senior choir under the direction of Richard Lindroth, choirmaster, will furnish the anthem.

Barry Tretheway will serve as acolyte and E. S. Kintz, Charles Widmer, Richard Shook and Richard Andress as ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Munson will have charge of the nursery for pre-school age children. Flowers will be placed by Mrs. Jessie V. Bechtold as a memorial to her aunt, Mrs. Mary Scott. Last Sunday, 20 different communities were represented among the guests who worshiped at St. John's.

Church school will be held at 9:45 a.m.

Council Changes Meeting Date

MOUNT POCONO — Borough council will hold its September meeting on Wednesday instead of on Sept. 6, which falls on Labor Day.

Sunday School Lesson

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

WE MAY begin this leson by remembering the story, told in Acts about the Roman officer of the Italian band, stationed in Caesarea, who was visited by an angel who told him to find Peter at Joppa and he would tell Cornelius what to do. Cornelius was an extremely devout man whose prayers and good works were acceptable to God. He sent servants to Joppa, found Peter as the angel had directed him, and brought him to his house.

Peter reminded Cornelius that after the baptism of Jesus by John the Baptist, "God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power; who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil, for God was with Him."

Relieving people afflicted with evil spirits was only one of the Master's good works. What we remember is that He "went about doing good." To show our faith in Him, we too must do good, following His example.

After Jesus had left the earth, this was the spirit in which the early Christians lived. They too went about doing good after they were visited by the Holy Ghost, healing the sick in His spirit. St. James reminds us of our duty in this matter when he says: "Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves."

If we have all the faith in the world, but we use it to pray only for ourselves, are we not selfish? It is when we pray also for others and strive in every way to help them, that we are true followers of our Lord.

"Judge not that ye be not judged" must have been in Paul's mind when he wrote to the Galatians: "Brethren, If a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual restore such a one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted."

Do we not often find ourselves judging each other harshly when they are in fault? Should we not always remember that we too might sin if we were faced with the same temptation?

That would be a good point to discuss with younger children. They too are sometimes shocked with their friends and playmates' actions that do not meet their moral ideas. They may be reminded that they too have their faults and might be tempted and often do things that do not meet their own ideals of conduct.

Jesus forgave the woman who had sinned, you remember, saying He would not condemn her and advising her to go and sin no more.

Now in the matter of bridling the tongue, as Jesus says in his gospel. In this most of us are guilty. Don't most of us at least occasionally indulge in gossip? Don't we give way to temper when things go wrong? Aren't we even guilty at times of slander, unkind types of wit at other people's expense? Also, we sometimes make unkind remarks to others. Few indeed are there who profess to be Christians who can plead entirely innocent of these sort of things. James said:

"If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

"Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father, is this. To visit the fatherless and widows and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

Our commentator and editor quotes these words from John Adam: "The person who speaks uncharitably, maliciously, slanderously, who gives utterance, free circulation to calumnies, suspicions, insinuations—who propagates false charges, or true ones in a bitter, envious, or malignant spirit—he assuredly bridles not his tongue.

"The reviler, backbiter, the whisperer, the reckless, abusive partisan, the inventor and publisher of bad names and injurious rumors—all such are clearly involved in this condemnation."

"To visit the fatherless and the widows in their affliction," and not them only, but all who are in trouble—friends who are ill and not able to get out; friends and neighbors who have lost loved ones—all those who need sympathy or help; when we do our very best to lighten their sorrows or sufferings, we are treading in the footsteps of the Master.

How to keep ourselves unspotted from the world seems to me to mean to keep our own deeply religious life, not letting the worldliness of others influence us.

James also said: "What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? can faith save him?"

For instance, he writes, if a sister or brother is destitute and you tell them to go in peace, but you do not relieve their suffering, does that make you a follower of Christ? First help them to the best of your ability, then tell them to "go in peace." "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ," as Paul told the Galatians.

"Hereby perceive we the love of God, because He laid down His life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren." How many noble martyrs have done just that!

"But whoso hath this world's goods, and seeth his brother hath need, and shutteth up his compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him? My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and in truth."

Memory verse: "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ."—Galatians 6:2.

Lesson-Sermon Subject Listed For Services

CHRIST JESUS' mission to reveal divine healing which overcomes sin, sickness, and sorrow in every age, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday, when the title of the lesson-sermon is "Christ Jesus."

Scriptural selection will include the account as given in Matthew of Jesus' responses to the followers of John the Baptist who asked if he was the Messiah (11:4,5): ". . . Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see: The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them."

The following correlative passage will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (131:26-30): "The mission of Jesus confirmed prophecy, and explained the so-called miracles of olden time as natural demonstrations of the divine power, demonstrations which were not understood. Jesus' works established his claim to the Messiahship."

The Golden Text is from John (1:17): "The law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ."

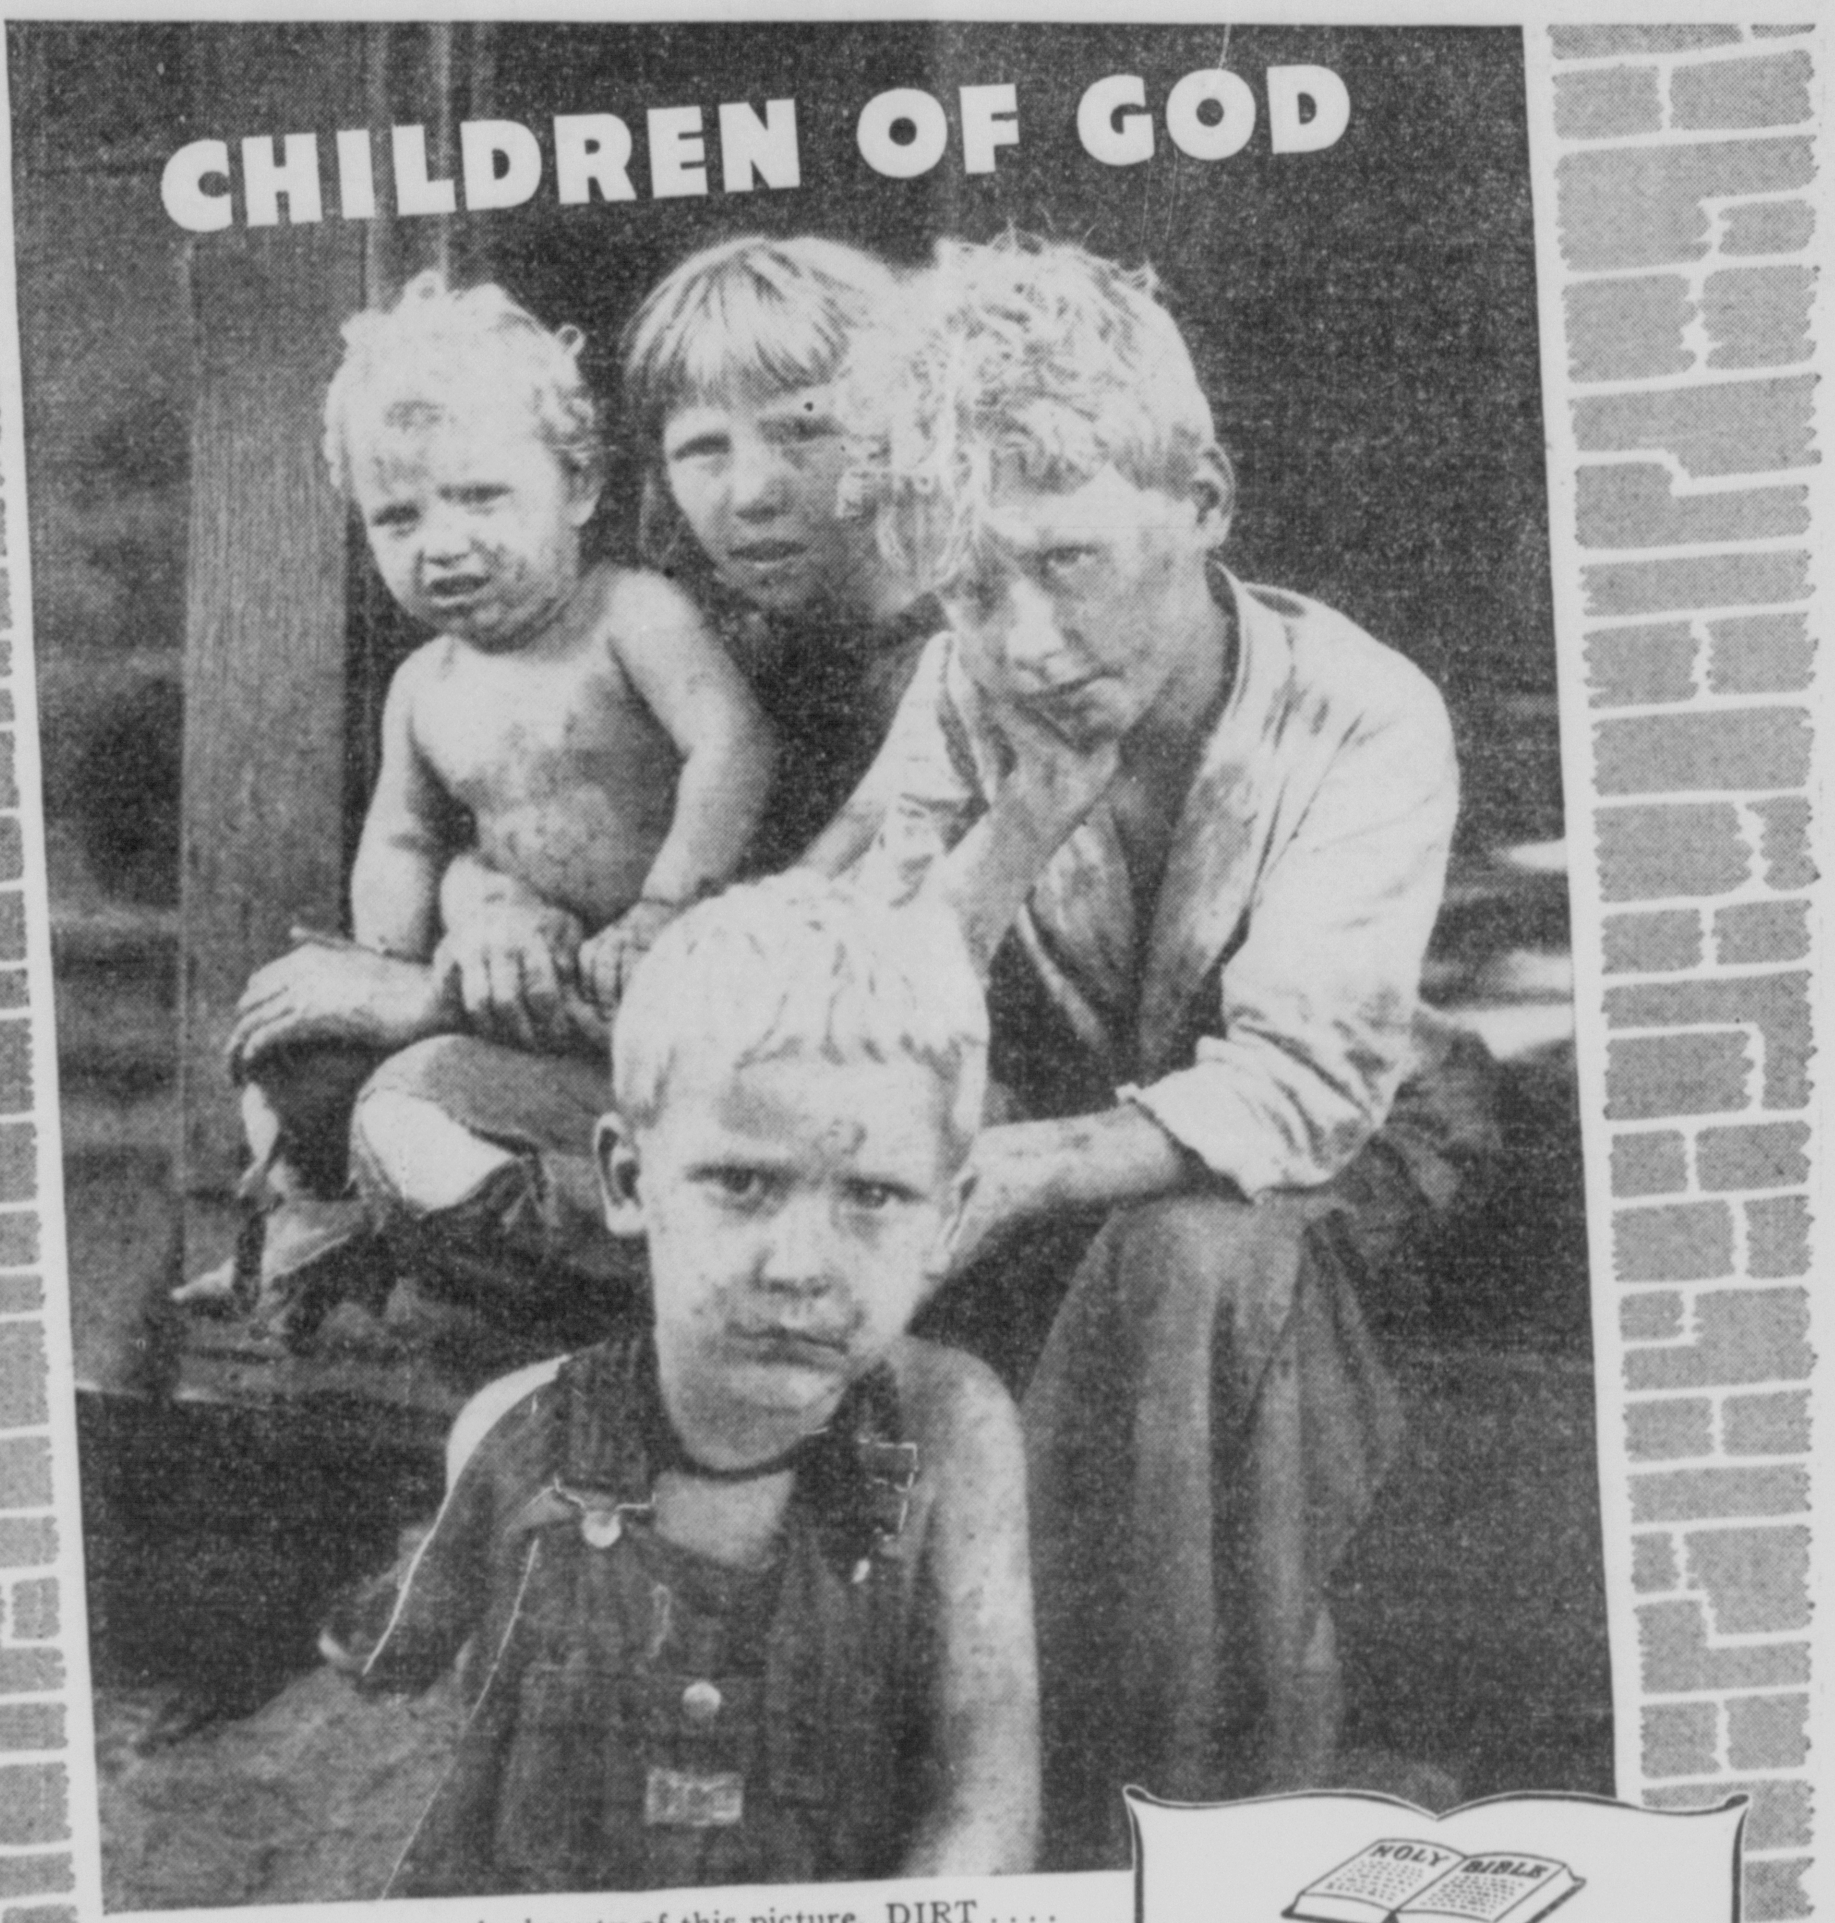
CHILDREN OF GOD



Three things mar the beauty of this picture. DIRT .... POVERTY .... and NEGLECT.

Dirt can be scrubbed away in ten minutes.

Poverty cannot destroy human character. It has bred some of our greatest men and women.

But neglect—for it there is neither cure nor consolation. It is the shadow of evil days to come.

Delinquency, immorality and crime can nearly always be traced to neglect. And not simply to the physical neglect so evident in this picture. Evil lives stem from the neglect of our children's spiritual needs. There are youngsters with clean faces and fine clothes who are being brought up in the soul-stifling atmosphere of a church-less home.

Our children are children of God. It is their sacred right to learn of their Father, and to see Him honored daily in their homes.

Parents, where will your children be on Sunday morning?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Health Menace

Decision of Stroudsburg Board of Health to "crack down" on individuals who dump garbage within borough limits, thus setting up an attraction for rats, should be pressed with all vigor under existing laws.

There's no reason under the sun for such a practice. There are several competent garbage collectors with wholly reasonable rates who can be employed to properly dispose of garbage.

This type of refuse is a health menace in itself if dumped freely. Attempts to burn it are seldom complete, leaving portions of debris about to rot.

Worst aspect, of course, is the attraction freely dumped, or partially burned garbage has for rats. The rat, according to health board officials, is a prime carrier for several deadly diseases.

No citizen has the right to expose his neighbors or their children to this health menace.

If the individuals guilty of this bad practice do not recognize their wrongdoing promptly, then the board of health should take whatever action the law allows to halt it.

Those Wonderful Reds!

Hold your hats, boys, the Communists have come up with another "first," claiming the invention of an atomic clock which they tell us is far more accurate than the old fashioned ones synchronized by the constellations of stars and the sun.

This atomic clock, the Reds declare, measures time with an exactness of one-millionth of a second. Or, as the old wise-crack has it, the length of time between the traffic light change to green and the sound of a horn from the cars behind.

Infinitesimal, that's what it is. Also incredible.

Now, if they would just get their little Red heads together and invent a machine that will insure honesty in speech and action, and try it out on the boys in the Kremlin, maybe they will go down in history as benefactors of the first water, instead of just plain factors.

Certainly this is a consummation devoutly to be desired, isn't it?

No Pay Raise

It might have been "good politics" for President Eisenhower to approve the pay raise for Government employes. There are nearly two million of them and an election is coming up. But it was good Government for him to veto it.

The bill Congress sent to him would have cost the treasury more than 300 million dollars a year, yet it provided no way to pay a cent of it. Had it become law, the Government simply would have gone into debt that much deeper.

In giving every employe a five per cent pay raise, the bill would have lumped the worst with the best, and proclaimed that in the civil service laziness and incompetence earn the same reward as ability and efficiency.

The Administration has expressed its willingness to raise the pay rates in the civil service, if it is permitted to correct inequities. And its proposed increase in postage rates would have financed a moderate raise for that department, at least.

But Congress, like the union lobbyists, could see nothing except five per cent for everybody.

Presumably the Government employes will get a raise next year, as the President suggests. But first the money should be found to pay it.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

If A Man Is Pro-Russian When There Is No War, Can His Rights Be Impaired?

I have received, as I believe many others have, a mimeograph statement by Corliss Lamont. Usually these mimeographed handouts hold little that need see the color of print, but this one contains enough to deal with in a column.

Corliss Lamont is the younger son of the late Thomas W. Lamont who rose from a newspaperman, specializing in art, to be the senior member of the banking house of J. P. Morgan. He was, in his way, a genius in public relations, a man of wide reading and knowledge, but cynical toward the world as it was between World War I and World War II. I once spoke to him about his son, Corliss, and he jestingly told me that come the revolution, Corliss will see to it that he is not hanged, which must have been some consolation.

Although the Lamonts had become rich through the job in J. P. Morgan's money shop, they must not be regarded as a conservative family. Certainly Thomas W. Lamont, art critic turned banker, was closer to the ideas of Franklin D. Roosevelt than those of Herbert Hoover. As a matter of fact, since 1929, Wall Street, as a stereotype, having lost confidence in itself during the early years of the Depression, tended toward the New Deal to save the country from revolution.

It is not surprising that Myron C. Taylor made his secret deal with John L. Lewis which really gave the CIO its start, without the knowledge or consent of the other members of the steel industry. Myron Taylor represented J. P. Morgan in the United States Steel Corporation, whereas the independent steel companies represented the opposition to Big Steel. Lewis organized the steel industry and in the enormous battles that then occurred within the Iron and Steel Institute, it was the New Deal labor policy that triumphed because of the insistence of the Morgan firm which at that moment was being run by Thomas W. Lamont and an arch-New Dealer, Russell Leffingwell.

Corliss Lamont insists that he is not a Communist and he has written a book to establish that he is a Socialist. His philosophic thinking is Marxist, secular and pragmatic. No matter how you put it, he has been consistently pro-Russian, writing many articles to establish his point of view. He is now in contempt of the Senate for refusing to testify before Senator McCarthy's Committee and plans to take his contempt action up to the Supreme Court. In his release, he notes:

"In voting to cite me for contempt, the United States Senate has unfortunately failed to recognize that I was correctly upholding the First Amendment and the separation of powers in refusing to answer Senator McCarthy's improper questions. It is regrettable that the Senate has decided to stand with McCarthy against the Bill of Rights and the Constitution. In yielding to McCarthy's pressure here, the Senate has missed an excellent opportunity to help curb the excesses of the McCarthy Committee and lay down proper limitations for Congressional investigations."

This paragraph seems innocent enough but it raises some interesting issues. Corliss Lamont correctly avoids the Fifth Amendment, because it does not apply. He refused to answer questions, concerning what the Committee believed was a pro-Communist record, on the grounds of the First Amendment which deals with freedom of speech, of the press and of assembly.

By taking this position, Lamont shifts the issue from himself to a general principle in American life. He even raises questions that will affect the bill passed by Congress outlawing the Communist Party. The issue is: if an American favors the concepts of Marxism-Leninism without joining a conspiracy to make these concepts effective, or if an American is pro-Russian when no declared war exists with Russia, as he might be pro-French or pro-Greek, may his rights to speak, write, and assembly be impaired by any law under our Constitution?

This is a serious question because the Supreme Court might well decide that an overt act is essential. Unless, therefore, when the Lamont case comes to the courts, the Government can establish an overt act, possibly in the nature of a conspiracy, Corliss Lamont may get off with a decision declaring him to be a windbag but not a conspirator. This would give the Communists a propaganda advantage throughout the world and give the American Communists a new umbrella for their activities.

The Once Over

Unconvincing Surprise: (Being a letter to all judges, district attorneys, prosecutors, chiefs of police, phychiatrists and juvenile delinquency probers professing amazement at unprecedented brutality in the crimes committed by teen agers, and highlighted by recent New York cases in which junior high-school kids beat up elderly men, killing two or more without provocation.)

Dear Sir:

So you can't believe it! You are dumbfounded by the gangster-like behavior of teen-agers. The case of a couple of youngsters who slugged old men to see how hard they could punch baffles you! It's all so mystifying, eh? Where have you been? Don't look now but your unawareness is showing. Your TV set and radio must be out of order. Otherwise you would surely realize that patterns for assaults, beatings-up and sadistic murders are being poured into American home on a nonstop basis and all under the HEAD OF FIRESIDE ENTERTAINMENT!

Do you mean that it is news to you that routines of bestiality are flooding the American fireside and presented as casual amusement for the kids? Didn't you have the least idea that the small fry, from the age of 6 or 7 up, are getting a daily and nightly education in the routines of gangsters, toughies and even handsome supposedly heroic gents who stop at nothing in any physical struggle? Hasn't anybody told the judges, prosecutors, lawyers, juvenile delinquency convention speakers and psychiatrists that even childhood's heroes are being presented as knock - down - and - drag - out "sluggers extraordinary" who respect no codes and bar no punches? You're in a bad way, men. It's time you were informed of things and asked what you expect of a society where children from almost the cradle to voting age get blueprints of the lowest crimes as a steady diet. They don't have to go to the movies. It's served at home!

Why don't you gents get around more? Haven't you been told that some of the hardest-boiled crime programs on the air are sponsored by some of the Big Wheels of American industry whose products are such a by-word in the American home that they give prestige to the performance? Didn't you know that some of these crime programs are presented with the costly glamor, perfection and general appeal that only the richest corporations can afford? You mean you had no idea that some of the top crime programs were regular airwave features through the sponsorship of prominent Americans who are leaders in the community moving in the most influential circles and regarded as fine people! They buy the airwave time and make their sales pitch through the crime programs, Bub.

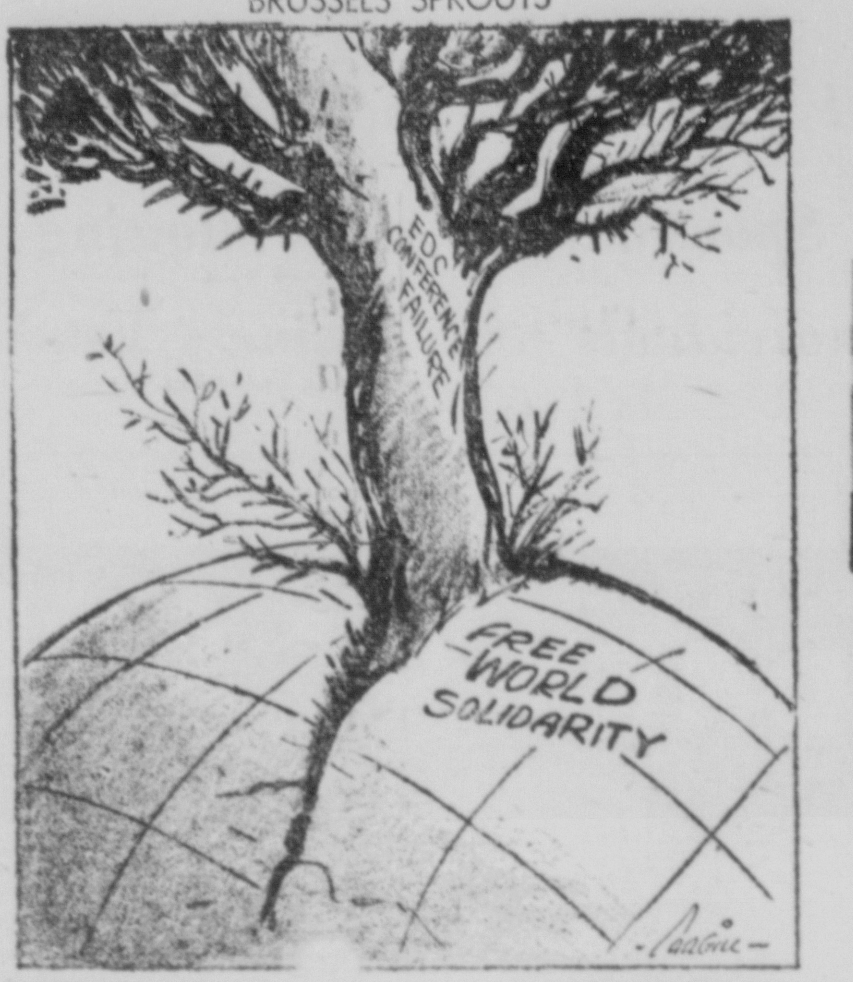
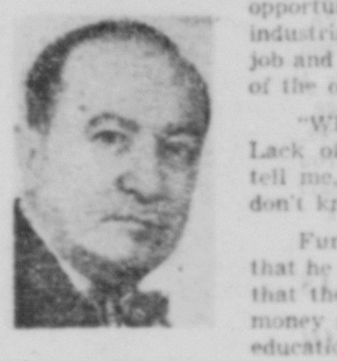
BRUSSELS SPROUTS



Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

Mistake To Let Dreams Go Far Beyond Your Capabilities



An old man of almost 30 wrote me from Mobile, Ala., recently and complained that success had passed him by.

"Here I am getting old," he wrote, "and all around me people are making a lot of money. As you know, the South has wonderful opportunities right now, what with all the new industrial expansion, but all I have is my little job and I don't seem to be able to take advantage of the opportunities.

"What do you think it is? Lack of courage? Lack of ability? Lack of money? I wish you'd tell me, if you can. It must be SOMETHING; I don't know what it is."

Further on in the letter the man tells me that he and his wife have saved about $10,000, but that they are afraid to take a chance with that money since it is a nest egg for their children's education. (They have no children as yet, although they have been married five years.)

It is awfully hard to advise a fellow whether and how to invest his money or how to become successful.

Personally I have long ago given up worrying about how well the other fellows are doing. I am much more concerned with my own life and with trying to make the best of whatever ability or courage I may have.

The greatest mistake most people make is to let their desires and their dreams grow beyond their capabilities. I think the most important thing is to give yourself a sort of a private I. Q. test before you aim too high. Sit down and figure out what you are able to do—then do that to the best of your ability and be satisfied with it.

It will save you a lot of heartaches and a lot of doctor bills.

This 30-year-old man in Mobile says he is getting old.

According to Dr. George Gamow, visiting professor of physics at the University of California, scientists now set the age of the universe at five billion years.

Human beings, of course, came much later. But even so, just think of all the little humans that have had their short span on this earth, and perhaps on other planets, since time began. There must have been billions of them.

Where are they now? What has become of all their little worries and troubles? Where have all their money and all their earthly possessions gone? The oldest tombstones in the oldest cemetery in this country go back only a few hundred years. I have yet to see a single article in the antiquest antique shop in the United States or in Europe that dates back more than a couple of thousand years.

The other day the Santa Maria, flagship of the Spanish Airline, completed the flight between the United States and Spain in 12 hours. Aboard were passengers with such impoing names as the Marquesa de Villaverde and Don Jesus Rubio Paz. What will those names mean in a few years—by few years I mean a couple of hundred years—from now? Who will remember them and for what?

But Columbus whose Santa Maria took months to make the crossing is still remembered and will be when all the worriers and fretters of today are forgotten.

Success? My idea of success is to get what you want provided you don't want any more than what is coming to you.

Try and Stop Me

In Montana, Harry Oliver, colorful editor of the Desert Rat, journeyed to the mining town of Eurelia to track down a tale of the old frontier days. It seems that the conductor and the brakeman on the local Harry was riding on couldn't agree on the pronunciation of Eurelia.

The conductor fastened a meaningful eye on Editor Oliver and intoned, "You're a liar! You're a liar!" The brakeman up front cut in with "You really are. You really are."

An Eastern lady, vacationing at a Nevada dude ranch, essayed a ride on a spirited pony, and was promptly sent flying head over heels into a pile of—well, dust in a corner of the corral.

"This pony bucks," she cried angrily as she struggled to her feet. A cowboy who had watched the performance with keen enjoyment drawled, "Shucks, lady, that wasn't no buck. That pony only coughed!"

Robert S. Allen Reports

Isolation Argument Hits Closing Days Of Congress

Washington—Old Pro and Con—An unreported incident during the closing hours of the recent Senate was the recurrence of an ancient spectacle — a long argument over foreign policy between an "isolationist" and an "internationalist."

The debaters were Senator Alexander Wiley (R., Wis.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and strong supporter of Administration views, and Senator George Malone (R., Nov.), uncompromising foe of any and all "internationalism" regardless of party sponsorship.

Wiley, about to depart for a series of conferences in Europe, started the scrimmage by remarking that, "Europe is at the crossroads. In fact, the whole world is at the crossroads."

Instantly, Malone was on his feet demanding, "Do the crossroads to which the Senator refers extend to Moscow? And does the Senator believe that those representatives of the British empire who are arranging trade agreements with Russia and Red China will have any effect on these crossroads?"

"I don't know whether co-existence will work," replied Wiley. "But I do know there is some justification for these people trying to find the solution which the world has been seeking since the last shooting war stopped. We must not forget that Britain, France and the other European countries are very close to Russia, which has vast military forces and the A-bomb and H-bomb."

"Maybe we cannot prevent those trade agreements," continued Malone, "but we certainly do not have to finance them."

"Separating our allies from us is no answer to this or any other problem," contended Wiley. "In unity there is strength, and the Senator's views do not make for unity. He does not have a solution for our troubles."

"I am against furnishing materials to the Communists to prepare for war against us," thundered Malone. "How stupid can we get?"

Senator Styles Bridges (R., N. H.), chairman of the Appropriations Committee, which sharply cut the President's foreign aid budget, tossed in a few comments.

"Isolationism in Congress is growing by leaps and bounds," he warned.

Wiley challenged that. But Bridges insisted he was right.

"We may have a hard time getting any kind of foreign aid program through the next Congress," he asserted. "Many members, doubtless reflecting the sentiment of their constituents, are getting disgusted with our allies running out on us on every hand. It is not a pretty sight seeing those top-level British Laborites wining and dining with the Red moguls of Moscow and Peiping."

The argument continued along this ancient line for quite a while.

Sparks—Possible successor to embattled Army Secretary Robert Stevens, if and when he departs, is Senator Sam Reynolds (R., Neb.) appointed to the seat of the late Senator Hugh Butler. Reynolds has potent bi-partisan backing; on one hand, Vice-President Nixon, and on the other, former Democratic Defense Secretary Louis Johnson. The latter and Reynolds are longtime American Legion buddies . . . Representative Albert Morano (R., Conn.), is doing a lot of gloating about the victory of his home town's (Stamford) little league baseball team over Visalia, Calif. Morano even inserted his jubilating in the Congressional Record, saying among other things, "The performance of our ball players will bear testimony to the undeniable fact that the East is still the big league in sports and the West is the cradle of the minors."

Flashes—Former President Hoover is naming a new Government Reorganization Task Force to investigate the Military Air Transport Service operated by the Air Force and the Military Sea Transportation Service run by the Navy. Private air and ship interests have complained against both systems. The Task Force will be headed by James K. Knudsen, former member of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Hoover told him, "These two military transportation services are giant operations and in direct competition with private industry. We want to find out whether that is warranted." . . . The Philippine government is cooperating on the plan to create a Southeast Asia defense alliance, but there is a "price" attached to this support. In the preliminary discussions, Philippine spokesmen have made it clear they expect a $100,000,000 increase in U. S. military and economic aid . . . Senator Estes Kefauver (D., Tenn.), is explaining his lone vote against outlawing Communists as follows: He says that Deputy Attorney General William Rogers told him the bill would obstruct plans to prosecute more than 100 Reds who have either been indicted or will be.

Young Men 'Blooded' At Fair

—by H. G. Heller

The 33rd annual West End Fair is history, except for the task of paying bils, premiums on winners among over 2,000 exhibits and the final grounds clean-up and a report to fair directors at a meeting September 18.

The reports are to be submitted by men who were "blooded" as executive officers of the huge enterprise which occurred Wednesday.

They are Maurice E. Kresge, Gilbert, president; Edward C. Doney, Kunkletown, RD2, secretary; LeRoy Hinton, Gilbert, assistant secretary; Arlington D. Smith, Kunkletown, RD1, treasurer.

Kresge and Doney, key men in the fair set-up along with Smith, are young men. Younger by some years than those who have directed the fair. Back of them, however, are the wise, older heads who have "gone thru the mill" for many years.

One other officer, Lloyd Frailey, vice president, was unable to attend the fair and work because of severe burns suffered some time ago.

We had an opportunity to watch the two younger men on Wednesday. They were cool, efficient and ready with decisions affecting many facets of this big enterprise.

We say big advisedly. Take the 3,610 cars which parked at the fair. That represented $3,610.

Kresge, who is a son of Ed Kresge, fair director and retired farmer, runs the Kresge homestead farm of some 180 acres and rents three more which are operated successfully. He had a taste of Lehigh University with the possibility of becoming an electrical engineer. Maurice didn't like it and before things went too far made a decision to come back to the farm.

Ed Doney, an alert, quiet spoken young man, is a capable teacher in the schools of Wilson Borough. He and Maurice have come together on many West End activities.

What about the officers of other years, and the directors?

You could stop at any of the many stands, exhibition buildings and other operations and there you'd find them, working their heads off.

There's a great lesson to be learned in community teamwork in this West End Fair operation. Their joint efforts prove the point—a successful operation in the pattern which has been well established by others over a period of 33 years.

N.Y. Confidential

—by Lee Mortimer

Chicago Confidential: This is the lowdown on the recent Windy City gang killings: (I held it up to give the other columnists time to print the "think pieces" planted on them by imaginative press agents.)

There Is No Mob War: Not in Chicago nor anywhere else in the country and there hasn't been for a long time. And get this through your hat, no brash youngsters challenge the Grand Council of the Mafia. This is big business, well organized. Reefered up punks don't go around shooting up the directors because it wouldn't do them any good if they did. If Gioie (the other victim was a nobody) was not knocked off for purely personal reasons such as welshing on a gambling debt (a la Rothstein) or making a pass at the wrong gal, the best bet is he got it as political insurance in a year when Cook County's infamous Kelly-Nash-Arvey machine is fighting for its life. Charlie knew too much and he was going to be subpenaed by the opposition in a grand stand play. He'd keep his lip zippered, but it sure as hell would look bad, so he had to be liquidated for the good of the party.

It's Who (and What) You Know: Charlie Gioie was one of the Capone mob who got jugged for extorting millions from the movie industry. He (and the others) were mysteriously paroled during the Truman administration when the following attorneys were retained to represent the gangsters: Paul Dillon, of St. Louis. He boasted at a Chicago hearing that he was Truman's personal friend, two-time Senatorial campaign manager and always welcome at the White House without an invite . . . A. Bradley Eben. His mother was then employed at the White House . . . Maury Hughes, of Dallas, boyhood friend and classmate of Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark, then U. S. Attorney General! . . . Chatter (by columnists) that Chicago's underworld is in a turmoil (or its leaders hiding out) just is not so. While these words were being typed Tony (The Enforcer) Accardo and Paul (The Waiter) Ricca strolled arm-in-arm in front of Chicago's Federal Building, picking their teeth and gently burping after a hearty luncheon. Regardless of what the fictioneers say, Ricca is not trying to take over from Accardo, who is still No. 1 in America's Operation Underworld. Just thought you'd like to know from the guy who knows.

Today's Baroda (pronounced Bore-oda) item: While the Maharajah was looking over chorine Madelyn Ilsefelder, of the Copacabana harem, she was looking over his bank account.

America's Black Day: I turned down the bid to attend Maj. Gen. Kirke Lawton's final garrison review at Fort Monmouth, because it would have broken my heart to see this brave officer drummed out of the Army he served so faithfully for daring to expose Communists in the Signal Corps Radar labs (while other generals who knuckled under were promoted). Aug. 28, 1954, will long be remembered as a day of infamy. MacArthur, Van Fleet, Wedemeyer, and now Lawton! When will it end?

Bell Co. To Install Dial Operation At Bushkill Next Year

Changeover Scheduled For July

THE BELL Telephone Company of Pennsylvania plans to change all Bushkill telephone service to dial operation and will erect a new Central Office building, it was announced yesterday by B. Van Horn, local manager.

The actual change to dial operation will take place in July of 1955, Van Horn said. At that time all Bushkill telephone numbers will be changed and new 5-digit numbers will be introduced.

Total cost of the dial conversion program will be in excess of $180,000, the Bell spokesman reported.

"This is a major project and will require many months to complete," Van Horn said. "Following the construction of the new building the company will start installing the intricate dial central office equipment. In addition, all Bushkill telephones must be changed to the dial type and numerous rearrangements and additions must be made in the cable and wire network which serves the area."

"Obviously in a project of this size no exact date of completion can be given at this time," he added. "However, we plan to push the project as fast as possible so that the conversion to dial operation can be made during July of 1955."

Two Accidents Investigated

STATE POLICE cleared up two side-wipe traffic accidents within an hour late Thursday.

First was at Analomink at 10:35 p.m. when the south-bound auto of Robert Maclin Jr., Baltimore, Md., Signal Corps Depot employe, collided in passing with the north-bound car of Raymond Miller, 370 Lincoln Ave., East Stroudsburg. Damages totaled $400, according to Stroudsburg Troopers Peter Sabinsky and Emil J. Weber.

The second was at 11:25 p.m. at Snydersville, involving the cars of Henry M. Howard Jr., Port Jervis, N. Y., and Ward E. Schweighofer, Tyler Hill, Pa. Damages in the second accident totaled $300, troopers said.

There were no injuries, police said.

Churches Map New Program

It laid down this program:

1. Lay men and women, "the very outposts of the kingdom of God," should transmit their faith courageously "in every secular sphere" of life.

2. Churches should make "full use" of literature and the arts—radio, television, movies, publications—to "permeate the general consciousness" and encourage decisions for Christ.

But the report added "there are dangers in use of these media," and that methods in which the Gospel is "vulgarized or diluted into an easy alternative to facing the demand of God for a personal response" must be shunned.

3. A more "realistic training" of church ministry, including sending theological students into industry.

4. Expanded chaplaincies in hospitals, the armed forces, industry, the universities and schools.

5. New types of parish work, which reach not only the places where man "lives but where he works."

6. A "fresh presentation of the Gospel" to children and youth, through Sunday schools. Youth programs, Bible fellowships, discussion groups and in the home.

7. A Christian determination to "do battle for the redress" of social injustice.

In many countries—in Asia and parts of Africa, the report said, "the spread of new ideologies" to change oppressive conditions challenges Christianity to offer truer solutions.

8. Christians, whenever "separated by caste, class, racial or other barriers" will "boldly cross them, manifesting Christ's solidarity with the whole of mankind."

9. Christians, whatever the opposition, should "proclaim the whole truth of the Gospel."

"But we must always bear in mind that there are human elements in our witness to it which stand under the judgment of God," the message added.

10. The churches, to strengthen their message, should "passionately strive for unity" and "increasingly work together to bring the Gospel to the whole world."

Five-Year-Old Boy Seriously Hurt By Car

A BOY, 5 WAS injured seriously yesterday morning when he reportedly dashed in front of a car on S. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, near the Grand Theater.

He was John VanBuskirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Van Buskirk, Gouldsboro, who was visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Alice VanBuskirk, 248 N. Courtland St.

Officer Travis Seese said the boy was with his sister at the time.

Mrs. VanBuskirk told Seese the children had started downtown to turn in some pop bottles, and buy ice cream with the refund money.

Mrs. VanBuskirk told Seese the lad had broken loose from his sister and run into the street. Time of the accident was about 9:50 a.m.

He was struck by the north-bound car of Robert Rice, about 32, of 154 E. Broad St., East Stroudsburg, Seese said. The lad was taken to East Stroudsburg General Hospital in an ambulance.

At the hospital he was under treatment for a left arm broken near the shoulder and a possible skull fracture. The boy was reported in "good" condition.

Company G Members Place High On Firing Range At National Guard Encampment

INDIANTOWN GAP—Men of Company G in the 28th Division have registered high scores on the firing ranges this week during the National Guard encampment.

The supplymen from the company—Cpl. Charles Jenkinson and Pvt. Russell Dyson—fired expert in carbine. Cpl. Fred Strunk, firing for the first time, had an exceptionally high score on the 30 caliber machine gun.

SFC Robert Felker and Sgt. James Frailey fired 123 and 121, respectively, out of a possible 135.

This week, for the first time, the company was subject to a formal Regular Army inspection in supply and administration. Company G was one of the top companies in the battalion. Cpl. Jenkinson, who had worked only two weeks in supply headquarters, was commended for his work by the battalion commander.

Company G took part in the annual Governor's Day celebration and parade last Sunday. More than 15,000 National Guardsmen marched in the parade.

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Aug. 27 (AP)—Some 12,000 troops of the Pennsylvania National Guard ended their two-weeks of summer training today. They head for home armories tomorrow by bus, rail and motor convoy.

"This has been without a doubt the finest summer encampment we've ever had in the history of the Pennsylvania National Guard," commended their commanding officer, Lt. Gen. Frank A. Weber, state adjutant general.

The troops comprised Pennsylvania's own 28th Infantry Division and non-division units.

At the same time, summer training ended for 1,500 Pennsylvania Air National Guardsmen of the 112th Fighter Bomber Wing at Spaatz Field, Reading.

An additional 2,000 guardsmen of the 51st Anti-aircraft Artillery Brigade will return Sunday to home armories from Ft. Miles and Bethany Beach, Del.

Rev. Herman Satterfield and Rev. George Wolfe will officiate at the services. Interment will be made in Stroudsburg Cemetery. William H. Clark is in charge of arrangements.

Outsiders Steal Goods Belonging To Prisoners

PENDLETON, Ind., Aug. 27 (AP)—Outsiders are doing the stealing inside the Indiana Reformatory.

Officials said yesterday two Indianapolis boilermakers working on a repair job were stealing articles, including some of the prisoners' own shoes, which are made in the prison.

In fact, the two men were wearing stolen shoes when they were stopped at their work.

The men didn't join the convicts inside the reformatory walls, however. Reformatory authorities warned that if they ever came back to the reformatory again they would be prosecuted. And their company fired them.

Progressive Women's Club Plans Program Year Ahead

Mrs. Elmer Veety was hostess to the executive board of the Progressive Woman's Club of Saylorsburg Monday night at the Greenview Guest Farm. A good attendance was present.

Mrs. Veety welcomed the ladies, this being the first board meeting since May.

Mrs. Lydia Howerter, chairman of the project committee, told of the progress on the "Golden Age" project, Girl Scouts, who want to get started in Hamilton Township this Fall. Library and playground equipment for Hamilton Township school was discussed; also decided to investigate a scholarship fund.

The first club meeting of the new year will be held October 13 at Chestnuthill School Auditorium, Brodheadsville. The 18th and 19th of March is being set aside as an entertainment night at the school to raise money for the projects. All other meetings will be held at the fire hall in Saylorsburg and Brodheadsville, alternately.

A special program is being planned for the February meeting, when husbands and friends will be guests. Saylorsburg Club will be hostesses to the county meeting October 19, destination and particulars to be announced later.

Mrs. Lizzie Fetherman was appointed to take care of the devotions for each meeting. Mrs. Veety will appoint a corresponding secretary, who will bring on a change in the by-laws.

It was also decided to allocate the following funds, $15 for Child health clinic; $10, for the March of Dimes; Community Chest, $15; Red Cross, $10; cancer $10; tuberculosis $5. Mrs. Veety had met previously with members of the executive board of the Youth Center and representatives of the Lions Club at which time $300 was turned over to assist the Youth Center in carrying through their program for the ensuing year. Mrs. Clarence Budge will be co-signer of all checks written by the Youth Center.

The year's program was thoroughly gone over and approved by the board. Two resignations were handed in, Mrs. Joseph Culby and Mrs. Mary S. Flory. Three new members have been accepted so far, Mrs. Raymond Serfass, Mrs. Robert Hoffman and Mrs. Oliver Mosteller Sr. Refreshments were served.

Registrations For New West End Playschool

Registration for the West End Playschool, which will be conducted at Zion Union Church, Brodheadsville, will be received at the church Aug. 30 and 31 from 7 to 9 p.m.

This is a new private kindergarten school with a capacity of 40 children. The teachers will be Mrs. Nevin Dorshimer and Mrs. James Thomas. There will be a fee, Mrs. Thomas said. She said the state had inspected the place and approved the same.

The school is non-sectarian and children from all areas are eligible, it was stated.

INCREASE THE VALUE of your home!
with a
Nationaline Space-Saver Ensemble.
Yes, the value of your home will go up, up, up, with a very modest investment. The Nationaline Space-Saver ensemble was designed to fit an area only Three Feet Square! Yet, is as functional as larger combinations. No other investment of so little —in space or money— will increase the value of your home so much! You can install it yourself for additional savings.
Constructed of gleaming acid and stain proof vitreous china in soft pastel colors or sparkling white, the ensemble will delight the eye and provide the necessary facilities for guests, master bedroom privacy, or confine the "small fry" clean up operation to the first floor or basement. Also suitable for cabins, servants quarters, or anywhere that space is a factor.

Miss Howell Is Employed In New York

Miss Joan Cora Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Howell, Saylorsburg, R. D. 1, has taken up her duties at the headquarters of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, Brooklyn, N. Y. She will be located at "Bethel" where 500 ministers live.

After graduating from Chestnuthill High School, close of 1952 as valedictorian, Miss Howell graduated from Churchman Business College, Easton. For the past year she was employed as secretary in the offices of C. H. Crowe Insurance Company, East Stroudsburg.

While attending the recent Convention of Jehovah's Witnesses at Toronto, Canada, she learned of the acceptance of her application. Her many friends wish her well in her new undertaking.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

My column of the other day, stating that some of our customers are critical of our early Christmas displays, proved particularly interesting to Mrs. John Glasson. Mrs. Glasson picked up the morning paper and began reading The Shopper, just after placing several addressed Christmas cards—complete with Santa Claus seals—in her mail box for the postman to pick up.

Mrs. Glasson was celebrating Christmas early in an indirect way. It was her daughter, Janet, who was the chief celebrant, along with all the other young women enrolled at Camp Hagan. Christmas at Hagan is always the main event of the closing week of camp, and the customs are thoughtful as well as beautiful. Gifts are exchanged, elaborate decorations are in order, greetings are mailed, and there is a big turkey dinner.

The place card for this occasion has an appropriate verse and is attached to a piece of incense which is treasured by the recipient until the real Christmas eve, December 24th. Then, at a certain hour, each girl, wherever she may be, burns the incense and mingles her happy memories of friends and events with the fragrant smoke. A lovely custom, wouldn't you say, and one that might be adopted by families who meet for only infrequent reunions.

During the August Christmas observance, each camper is also given a lighted candle, and, at the close of the celebration, the collected flames are floated down the Delaware . . . a bright, perhaps tear-inspiring sight that remains forever in the minds of the girls participating.

I am very grateful to Mrs. Glasson for telling me this sequel to my earlier article . . . and for answering the customer who wanted to know why on earth we displayed Christmas merchandise in mid-summer.

I hope everyone was listening to yesterday morning's broadcast when Mr. Tony Zaffro, Crosse and Blackwell representative, discussed the Keiller candies, Dundee marmalade, and varied jams, jellies, puddings and short breads that are such an important part of this fine foods line.

I particularly enjoyed the legend of Dundee marmalade which he recounted and which appears in the pamphlet being distributed to our Wyckoff customers. Marmalade came into being, it seems, back in 1797 when a Spanish galleon was shipwrecked in the North Sea just off the Scottish shore near the town of Dundee. Part of the sea-washed cargo was a quantity of Seville oranges which the thrifty Scots salvaged, only to find too bitter for their taste.

Mrs. James Keiller was not satisfied to see the fine fruit rot on the beach, however, so cooked it into a tasty conserve which she put in small white crocks and sent into the nearest market with her son, Jamie.

When the boy returned empty handed, Mrs. Keiller wanted to know what her neighbors had said of the conserve.

"Why, mither," Jamie replied, "a' tha' cud say was 'mair, me lad'."

And "mair me lad" it is today, with a few changes in spelling.

Do come in between nine a.m. and nine p.m. today and ask for samples at our Keiller promotion table.

Allies Saying Harsh Words About France; EDC Defeat Would Pose Isolationism Threat

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

Strong statements are being made in the British press, as in the United States, against French scuttling of the European Defense Community.

Even the London Times, which customarily maintains a clinical calm, said Friday that "If Europe still wins through to sanity and security it will be in spite of—and not because of—France."

Those are harsh words about an old friend, and the nation which has provided a very great deal of the most forward-looking thought since the war.

One of France's and Britain's chief worries since the war has has been that something would push the United States back into isolationism. And insofar as there is still some isolationism in the United States, France's actions have done more than anything else to feed it.

If France does kill the EDC—and the spate of criticism is based on acceptance of that as inevitable—it will certainly produce a new outburst of isolationist statements in the United States. Of that, Britain is painfully aware.

The diplomats will go right ahead, though in some disheartenment, with the search for a practical means of providing Germany with the strength to live up to her frontline position in the defense of Western Europe.

But any buildup that is decided upon will be carried on against a drop in France's value as an ally which will not be overtaken for a long time. That is, it will if Congress insists on enforcing its ukase that scuttling of the EDC shall be followed by cutting off American aid to France. And there will certainly be nothing in the atmosphere surrounding EDC's funeral to weaken this congressional intent, however wiser it might be to maintain a position of flexibility.

For the United States to permit its disappointment to produce important steps toward real isolationism would be a very dangerous thing. That, carried to an extreme, would enable the Communists, in their own time, to chip off Europe piece by piece as Hitler did, and finally to engulf it completely, as Hitler did.

The changed nature of warfare, created by the existence of new devastating weapons which can be delivered anywhere in the world, has led to a good bit of thinking in the United States that any serious Communist attack on Europe could be cut off by destroying it at its Russian source.

But suppose the French people, feeling themselves cut off from their Western family, or the Italian people, despairing of pulling themselves up by their own bootstraps, should vote the Communists into control in the hope of coexistence?

Military retaliation against Russia would be extremely improbable, if not entirely impossible, in such case.

The mobilization of the great resources of Europe for the final attack on the United States would then begin. Its men, mines and metal, its intercontinental missile launching sites, its air bases and its shipyards, would give the Reds an overwhelming battle strength.

The only alternative is to do what is necessary to hold Europe, without allowing pique to interfere. It will even be better to get some help from even reluctant allies than to get no help at all.

Pocono Mountains League To Launch Playoff Grind

RILEY

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

HARRY WARNER, one of the best and most likeable athletes to be produced in Monroe County, is curently one of the hottest batters in the class "A" Western International League. Harry, first baseman for the Salem Senators, has brought his batting average from the .280s to a very respectful .307 in recent weeks. Warner, a graduate of Pocono High and Former first sacker with the Stroudsburg Poconos, now has 15 home runs, 31 doubles, seven triples and 74 runs batted in to his credit.

In a doubleheader played with Edmonton last Saturday Harry was credited with five hits in seven trips to the plate. He went two-for-three in the lid-lifter and then lashed out three hits, including a homer, in four trips to the dish in the nightcap. He is now hitting in the cleanup spot for the third place Senators. While things are going well at the plate, Harry is having his troubles with one of the circuit's umpires, a fact that will seem strange to his many friends in this area.

Warner is wel known for his easy going manner and during his North Atlantic League career never had any umpire trouble. But one of the WIL men in blue, namely Lowell Fulk, has banished Harry from two games and brought about a brief suspension for the slugging first sacker. Al Lightner, sports editor of the Oregon Statesman, maintains that Warner was the victim of very poor judgement by Fulk, and points out that rival players had the same version of the suspension deal.

Lightner went so far as to maintain that the umpiring in the WIL this season is the poorest in the circuit's history and was especially angry with Fulk. Lighter took a bitter stand against Fulk's judgement and also questioned the umpire's eyesight. Having known Harry for approximately 20 years, I doubt very much if the gangling, long ball hitter would ever do anything to an umpire or rival players that should make even the shortest suspension necessary. Warner's fine batting comeback will be good news to his many friends in this locality.

Members of Walt Stem coached basketball teams at East Stroudsburg High school in the 1930s and early 1940s gave the departing teacher a surprise farewell party at Stroud Manor, Analomink last night. Stem, who has taken a new teaching position at Valley Stream, L.I., was presented with a gift. An Army of people from Monroe County attended Thursday's New York-Detroit baseball game at Yankee Stadium. Included in this group was the Pocono Little League, 65 boys and 10 adults strong. Harold Kreck, Canadensis, was in charge of the trip.

The new electric scoreboard arrived at Memorial Stadium yesterday and construction got under way almost immediately. The grandstand at Memorial Stadium is now receiving a paint job, and will be complete by Friday, September 10, when Hellertown and the Cavaliers clash in the opening football game of the 1954 campaign. Bill Hickey, former Stroudsburg High basketball star and now a student at Kings College, Wilkes-Barre, demonstrated his basketball ability at the West End Fair on Wednesday.

Rumors are currently making the rounds that Vin Rambo, head football coach at Shippensburg Teachers College in recent years, will not fill the same capacity this season. Rambo is reportedly working on his Doctor's degree. Major William Varney, attached to the Tobyhanna Signal Depot and one of the hardest workers in the Pocono Bowmen, a local archery group, was among the top scorers at a meet held in Reading last weekend. The meet was sponsored by the Reading Archery Club.

Bob Nemeth, a pitcher, is one of the big reasons Coplay won its first two games in the American Legion Junior Baseball Tournament in Allentown. Nemeth will be remembered by both the East Stroudsburg High baseball and basketball squads as an outstanding performer in both sports last season. Tannersville will play its initial official Little League game on Tuesday, with Mount Pocono providing the opposition on the Pocono High School field. Mount Pocono is a member ofthe Pocono Little League, while Tannersville is attempting to form a club for next season.

Jimmy Carter, former lightweight champion, will workout at Harry's Farm today and tomorrow. Three highly rated sparring partners are prepared to provide the opposition. Carter is currently training for a return bout with Paddy DeMarco, current champ, in San Francisco on Wednesday, September 22.

Pocono Lake Shoots For Second Title

POCONO LAKE, pennant winner in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League, will begin its quest of a second title tomorrow when the circuit launches its post-season playoff series.

The Pocono Lake contingent, fresh from its first regular season title since entering the Pocono Mountains League, will play host to Saylorsburg on the Tobyhanna Township High School field.

Saylorsburg, also featuring one of it most successful campaigns, finished as the number three club in the final standings of the circuit.

Second place Kunkletown and fourth place Lake Harmony will play in the other half of tomorrow's opening playoff round, with Kunkletown playing the role of host.

Both semi-final round playoff series will be decided on a best-two-out-of-three basis. Each of tomorrow's contests are slated to get underway at 2 p.m.

Tannersville and Reeders, two arch rivals, will play a similar series, but no league title will be at stake. This series will begin in Tannersville and is being billed as the "Little Pocono" championship. This opening game also begins at 2 p.m.

Dodgers Trip Cardinals, 8-4

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27 (AP)—Walt Moryn's two-run pinch homer in the ninth inning tied the score and the pennant-ambitious Brooklyn Dodgers went on to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals in the 10th tonight, 8-4.

The defending champions were trailing, 4-2, when Sandy Amoros singled in the ninth for the Dodgers' sixth hit off Brooks Lawrence. Moryn, batting for Don Hoak, then hit the Redbird rookie's first pitch to the rightfield roof for his second major league homer.

Facing Gerry Staley in the first overtime frame, "Junior" Gilliam doubled, took third on "Pee Wee" Reese's infield out and, following an intentional pass to "Duke" Snider, scored on Gil Hodges' scratch hit to shortstop.

Southpaw Al Brazle replaced Staley to pitch to the lefthanded-hitting Amoros, whose double-play grounder to first baseman Joe Cunningham was thrown into left field for a run-scoring, two-base error. The third and fourth tallies were scored with Ben Wade on the mound, a result of Billy Cox's sacrifice fly and Carl Furillo's single.

TORONTO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Wally Ulrich of Rochester, Minn., shot a two under-par 69 today for a 54-hole total of 199 and undisputed lead after three rounds in the $26,500 open golf tournament.

Ulrich made a comeback on the last nine to pass Tommy Bolt of Houston, who shot a 67 for 200 total.

Dave Douglas of Grossinger's, N. Y., and Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., were next with 202.

Ford shot a 69 in today's third round and Douglas 70.

Yankees Gain Yardage In Race By Blanking Detroit, 4-0

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—The New York Yankees trimmed Cleveland's American League lead to three and one-half games tonight by whipping the Detroit Tigers 4-0 on a six-hitter by Tom Morgan. The shutout was the 16th of the season against the Tigers who slipped into second division.

The biggest cheer of the night from the crowd of 21,724 came in the eighth inning when Cleveland's 3-2 loss to Washington was posted on the scoreboard.

The Yankees picked up a run in the first on singles by "Hank" Bauer and Joe Collins plus an infield out, scored again in the fourth when Irv Noren led off with his 11th homer and wrapped it up with two in the seventh.

Manager Freddie Hutchinson of the Tigers was tossed out of the game in the seventh by Umpire Frank Umont in an argument over the last Yankee run.

Willie Miranda, Bauer and Collins singled with one out in the seventh to account for one run. Then Mickey Mantle grounded to first baseman Walt Dropo who threw home trying to catch Bauer sliding in from third.

Umont ruled Bauer safe, bringing roars of protest from catcher Frank House, losing pitcher George Zuverink and Hutchinson.

Redlegs Nip Pirates, 3-2

CINCINNATI, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs pulled of the National League's first triple play this year and Ted Kluszewski hit a ninth-inning home run to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 tonight.

Kluszewski's homer, his 37th of the year, sailed over the rightfield screen to break up the game which had been tied, 2-2, since the third inning.

Jack Shepard had provided the Pirates with their two scores by hitting his third homer of the season in the second inning with Sid Gordon on base.

The triple play came in the sixth inning. Frank Thomas got on base after being hit by pitcher Joe Nuxhall. Gordon beat out a hit which went over second base. Shepard then bounced to Bobby Adams. Adams stepped on third to force Thomas, threw to Johnny Temple at second to double Gordon and Temple's relay to Kluszewski completed the triple killing.

Greentown Bows To Stars

NEWFOUNDLAND—Greentown, champion of the Newfoundland Little League, dropped a 13-8 decision to the circuit's All-Star team here at the Greene-Dreher Fair yesterday.

Ronnie Robacker's three-run homer in the top of the eighth broke an 8-8 deadlock and the All-Stars went on to win. Kenneth Weinland also homered for the All-Stars in the eighth.

The contest was originally scheduled for seven innings but was deadlocked at that point. The All-Stars scored three runs in the seventh to even matters.

Bob Holdren pitched all the way for the All-Stars, with Bob Haag doing the catching. Tom Peifer and Roy McLain divided the mound chores for Greentown, with the latter being charged with the loss.

White Sox Trim A's With Big Inning, 11-0

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27 (AP)—Two triples and Johnny Groth's sixth home run produced eight runs in a big third inning tonight as the Chicago White Sox trounced the Philadelphia Athletics 11-0 with veteran reliever Harry Dorish going the distance for his fifth win of the season.

Third baseman Cass Michaels was struck in the head by a pitched ball in the uproarious third. The ball, thrown by Marion Fricano, hit the White Sox infielder in the jaw. He was taken to Presbyterian Hospital where attendants said he was suffering from a possible fractured skull. His condition was reported as "not serious."

Dorish started things in the third with a single. Chico Carrasquel walked and Nellie Fox singled to right to load the bases. Minnie Minoso tripled to right, clearing the bases.

George Kell forced Minoso at home. Batts walked and Rivera brought them home with a triple to right. After Fricano hit Michaels, Groth pasted the home run.

The Sox added three more in the fourth. Carrasquel led off with his 12th home run of the season. Fox singled to left and Minoso smacked his second triple to the scoreboard. Kell lifted a short fly to center and Minoso raced home.

Tobyhanna In Playoff

TOBYHANNA—Tobyhanna, number three in the final standings of the Pocono Mountains Association, will attempt to fight its way back on an even footing with pennant winning Gouldsboro here on the Coolbaugh High School field tomorrow.

Gouldsboro took the measure of Tobyhanna last Sunday, 9-4, on the Gouldsboro field. The series will be decided on a best-two-out-of-three game basis.

Hamlin and Moscow, second and fourth respectively in the final standings, battle on the latter's home field in the other half of first round play.

Both games are scheduled to get underway at 2 p.m.

Schenectady Captures Little League Crown

By DICK HOENIG

WILLIAMSPORT, Aug. 27 (AP)—Billy Masucci, 12-year-old righthander with a blazing fast ball, held Colton, Calif., to two home runs and two singles today to give Schenectady, N. Y., a 7-5 victory and the 1954 Little League world championship.

The win, 10th in tournament competition for the New Yorkers, completed a comeback duplicated only once before in Little League world series play.

Last year the Schenectady All-Stars were defeated in the final by Birmingham, Ala.

Masucci, son of Schenectady Little League Coach Louis Masucci, was in trouble much of the way in walking eight Colton batters. But his fast ball accounted for nine strikeouts—most of them in the clutch.

In addition, the Schenectady pitcher hit his team's only home run with one on in the first inning to give the New Yorkers a 2-0 lead. They never fell behind through the rest of the regulation six-inning contest.

Masucci also had a single and a walk in three appearances at the plate.

Ed Verbos slammed a bases-loaded home run in the ninth inning for Masontown, Pa., against Melrose Park, Ill., to win his own game in the consolation contest this morning. The game was tied 0-0 in the regulation six innings, and each team scored once in the eighth before Masontown came up with a big six runs in the ninth.

Senators Inflict Costly Defeat On Indians

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Washington Senators won a 3-2, 10-inning ball game from the league-leading Cleveland Indians tonight, with Bob Feller the victim of a fatal boot by outfielder Dave Philley.

The Senators' winning run came as the climax to a pitching duel between Feller and Johnny Schmitz, who defeated the Indians for the first time in his major league career.

Feller got the first two Senators in the 10th with ease but Pete Runnels came through with a single to left for the first solid Washington hit since the second inning.

Ex-Indian Mickey Vernon ran the count to three and two and then swatted a long single into the right field corner. Runnels was off with the pitch and in picking up the ball Philley kicked it around just long enough to allow Runnels to score.

Feller and Schmitz matched goose eggs from the third inning until the 10th. Schmitz spaced 11 hits while Feller gave up eight, three of them successful bunts.

Giants Tame Braves, 3-1

Milwaukee, Aug. 27 (AP) — Sal "The Barber" Maglie fired a five-hitter at the pennant-hungry Milwaukee Braves tonight as the league-leading New York Giants racked up a 3-1 triumph before a crowd of 46,994 fans at County Stadium.

The victory increased the Giants' lead over the third-place Braves to seven and one-half games and maintained their three and one-half game bulge over the Brooklyn as the Dodgers pounded out an 8-4, 10-inning decision over St. Louis.

Maglie, after yielding the Braves' lone run on a pair of first-inning singles, throttled the Mildaukeeans the rest of the way. The Braves got only one man as far as second base in the final eight innings, and he was wiped out in a double play. The veteran righthander struck out six and walked one in posting his 13th victory against six losses.

The Giants scored twice in the third on two hits, a pair of sacrifices and an infield out and added the clincher in the sixth when Maglie was hit by a pitched ball with the bases full on two singles and an intentional walk.

East Stroudsburg Grid Squad Loses Miller For Three Weeks

EAST STROUDSBURG High School's football fortunes received a rude jolt on Thursday it was revealed yesterday, as Bob "Boo" Miller, veteran lineman, suffered an injured knee and will be out of action for at least three weeks.

X-rays taken at the Monroe County General Hospital yesterday disclosed that Miller had suffered torn ligaments of the right knee in a scrimmage session on Thursday.

The husky center, who played brilliant football all last season, was on crutches at last night's practice.

Miller will miss the opening home game with Hellertown and will also be on the sidelines when East Stroudsburg and Slatington clash on the latter's home field in the second contest on the agenda.

Dick Gray, number two quarterback, was also injured in Thursday's scrimmage, suffering an eight-inch gash on his left leg. Gray is expected to be back in action within a week.

Mike Palmisano, another veteran lineman, suffered a sprained thumb last night during a workout.

Coach Jack Kist plans to start two-a-day workouts next Thursday and Friday. The Cavaliers will also drill on Labor Day and two more times a week from next Tuesday.

Cubs Defeat Phillies On Baker's Bunt

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP) — Gene Baker's bunt single scored Hal Jeffcoat, making his first appearance in the outfield this season, with the winning run as the Chicago Cubs edged Philadelphia 4-3 in a 12 inning thriller today. Jeffcoat scored from third base as Baker bunted along the third base line with two out in the third overtime inning.

The Cubs' winning marker was the result of Jeffcoat's single with two out, and Hal's successful dash to third as Bobby Morgan fumbled Walker Cooper's pinch grounder. Then came Baker's bunt for the winning run.

The Philadelphia outfield had only three putouts for the entire game, Del Ennis getting the first on Hank Sauer's leadoff fly to open the ninth.

Immediately after this Ernie Banks, Chicago shortstop, tied the score at 3-3 by driving his No. 19 homer onto the leftfield catwalk.

Chicago scored a run in the second, and gained a 2-0 lead with another run in the seventh as Randy Jackson scored on Dee Fondy's single.

The Phillies moved ahead in the eighth when Richie Ashburn and Smoky Burgess singled ahead of Gran Hammer's No. 11 homer.

Racing Back At Speedway

STROUDSBURG Speedway will return to its regular Sunday night stock car racing program tomorrow, when some of the top drivers in the east battle for the $1,000 purse at the track located next to the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg Airport.

Ken Wismer, Easton, will attempt to land his second straight feature event, after pacing the field to the finish line in last week's outing.

There will be five events on the program, the first of which will get underway at 8:30 p.m. There will be three qualifying heats of 10 laps each, a consolation grind of 12 laps and the feature event of 25 laps.

Top drivers from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania will battle for the top prize, with the field ganging up on Easton drivers in an effort to halt that city's domination of the main event in recent weeks.

Portland Plays Host To Tatamy

PORTLAND—Final round activity in the Blue Mountain League playoffs will begin here on Sunday, with Portland playing host to Tatamy. The contest is slated to get underway at 2:30 p.m.

The Apollos of Portland reached the final round by eliminating Roseto in two straight games. Portland finished the regular campaign in second place.

Tatamy, the third place club in the final standings, knocked pennant winning Martins Creek from the playoffs in two straight outings.

The second game will be played at Tatamy a week from tomorrow and if a third game is necessary it will be played on Sunday, September 12. A field for a third game will be decided at a later date.

Managers of Portland and Tatamy reached an agreement on the playoff via telephone, it was announced yesterday by Woodrow Jones, circuit president.

Three Shawnee Pros Enter Golf Tourney

SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE — Ninety-one Philadelphia District golf professionals will tee off tomorrow in the annual Shawnee Pro-Member championship golf tournament here at Shawnee Inn and Country Club.

The pro-member, 18-holes test, will be a warmup for the District PGA championship, which starts with an 18-hole medal play qualifying round Monday. Match play starts Tuesday and continues through Wednesday.

This year's field in the District PGA establishes an all-time high for the championship tournament, which has been held at Shawnee for the past five years. It betters last year's record field by six.

Henry Williams Jr., Berkleigh Country Club, defending champion, will attempt to lift the title for the third time. "Bud" Lewis, Manufacturers, Oreland, Pa., and Clarence Ehresman, Ashbourne, Philadelphia, also will be seeking their third District championship.

Former champions John Serafin and Felix Serafin, both of Fox Hill, and Sam Davis, Woodcrest, are among the 91 players scheduled to tee off in the title classic.

Stan Dudas, Dick Farley and Al Nelson, of Shawnee; John Weitzel, Hershey, and George Fazio, Pine Valley, all of whom play on the winter circuit, will be among the sharpshooters after the championship.

Terl Johnson, DuPont; Pete DeAngelis, Plymouth, runner-up to Williams last year; Bill Boyle, Iron Rock; Johnny Moyer, Schuylkill; George Griffin, Green Valley, last year's medalist; Pat Tiso, Meadowlands; Charlie Hoffner, Atlantic City, and Chick Hart, Philadelphia, are in the field.

Henry Poe, Reading, president of the District PGA, and Harry Obitz, head pro at Shawnee, also are looking forward to a new low scoring mark in the qualifying round.

In tomorrow's pro-member championship, the pros will be playing with some of the best amateur golfers in the east, some of whom will be on hand for the Bill Waite Memorial Tournament which starts here September 7.

Ashburn Nears Playing Record

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Richie Ashburn, Philadelphia Phillies centerfielder, played his 701st consecutive National League game today.

Ashburn's streak started June 7, 1950, and is 122 games away from the National League record of 822 established by Gus Suhr of Pittsburgh between 1931 and 1937. The late Lou Gehrig holds the major league record of 2,120 games with the New York Yankees.

Palmer Defeats Meister In Marathon National Amateur Match; Sweeny Decisions Lenczyk

By WILL GRIMSLEY

DETROIT, Aug. 27 (AP)—Young Arnold Palmer of Cleveland, playing on borrowed time, nailed a birdie on the 39th hole to win an overtime battle from fellow townsman Ed Meister today and go into the finals of the 54th National Amateur golf championship against millionaire sportsman Robert Sweeny.

Meister, who missed a six-foot putt on the 36th and a three-footer on the 37th which would have given him the match, ran into an old jinx on the third extra hole where he hit a four-wood into some trees. In the morning round he hit three successive trees on the same hole.

Palmer, 24-year-old son of a Latrobe, Pa., pro, pumped two good shots to the green of the 510-hole par five hole and then two-putted from 45 feet.

Approximately an hour earlier, Sweeny, a graying, debonair socialite with a satin-and-silk swing, posted an easy 5 and 4 triumph over Dr. Ted Lenczyk, shy little dentist from Newington, Conn.

Sweeny played the best golf of the day as he rode out a wave of semifinal "jitters" over the Posh County Club of Detroit.

So tomorrow it's Sweeny, 43, against the ex-Coast Guardsman from Pennsylvania's steel country—19 years his junior—for one of the sport's greatest prizes.

The bitterly-fought Palmer-Meister match was knotted seven times and Meister, a lumbering 36-year-old magazine publisher, held the lead only twice—each time by just one hole—before the two went down the wire to one of the longest matches in the history of the tournament.

Ironically, the putter which saved Meister in the scrambling match finally proved his undoing.

The husky Cleveland publisher, playing in his 13th national amateur, sank a curing 20-footer for a deuce to keep the match even at the 31st after Palmer had hit a four-iron against the flag, three feet from the pin. Then a miraculous 25-foot putt on the 34th for another birdie two enabled him to again even the match after taking a double bogey on the previous hole.

Bosox Edge Orioles, 3-2

BOSTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Ted Lepcio's sacrifice fly sent home Harry Agganis with the winning run in the sixth inning today as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Baltimore Orioles 3-2 behind the eight hit pitching of Russ Kemmerer and Ellis Kinder.

Baltimore second baseman Bob Young's two-base error on Grady Hatton's grounder which went through him following Agganis' single preceded Lepcio's fly in the sixth. Sammy White's two run homer into the leftfield screen in the second inning, his 11th of the season, accounted for Boston's other tally.

Kinder came on in the seventh inning, after Cal Abrams had walked and gone to third on Eddie Waitkus' single, to face Vern Stephens whose singles in the first and fifth had driven in Baltimore's runs. Old Reliable got Stephens to pop to second and Clint Courtney to fly to right.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

SATURDAY, AUGUST 28, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—A better outlook than for the past few days. Sound business, professional undertakings, maritime prospects can be built up to great advantage today. Don't neglect spiritual needs.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Planets favorably aspected now. Good for building, merchandising, manufacturing; for those handling groups, teaching children, the arts, music. Indulge in wholesome recreation during free time.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Mild indications, especially for personal affairs. Dealing in medicine, chemicals, highly favored. Honest endeavors should advance reasonably.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—With a proper show of initiative and interest you can move forward in your chosen field. Be careful as you go along and others will enjoy giving your assistance, good advice.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — Your magnetic personality and natural ability for salesmanship should bring you benefits, fresh opportunities. An early start, alertness to unexpected obstacles needed.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Outlook stimulating. This could be one of your good all 'round days. Be keen, take advantage of opportunities. If in doubt, seek advice; also profit by past experiences.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Influences can greatly help your efforts in personal and business activities. Discount fluctuations in routine matters; they'll straighten out in due time. Be dependable, honest.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—A good reconstruction period. The budget, expenditures, investments all bear careful watching. Give close scrutiny to all issues, important matters.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Only a fair day perhaps. Emphasis on tolerance, friendliness, helping others in generous spirit. Extra effort could achieve some gains; check all leads.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—You may have to point up the "little things" today. Control restless desires and be ready to give your best when it is most needed. Personal affairs sponsored especially in a. m.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Stars warn against involvement in contracts entailing large expenditures, obligating you to take too much time from duties, regular work, family obligations.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Changing conditions. Incline toward conservativeness in most cases. Accept things with a smile; let simplicity be your theme. Analyze each proposed project before acting.

Runoff Vote Slated Today In Texas

By ROBERT H. JOHNSON JR.

DALLAS, Aug. 27 (AP) — Texas Democrats who went for President Eisenhower in 1952 will choose tomorrow between the governor who led them and the challenger who says they were misled by a political turncoat.

The split between conservatives and liberals is the basic issue in the race between Gov. Allan Shivers and Atty. Ralph Yarborough of Austin.

Both Shivers, the conservative, and Yarborough, the liberal, raised many other issues in their first Democratic primary campaign, which wound up in no decision July 24. They have raised others in the runoff, which ends tomorrow.

The winner will be opposed in the general election in November by Republican Todd Adams of Houston. But Democratic nomination for the governorship has been equivalent to election in Texas since reconstruction days.

The two candidates spent the final hours of the campaign in the state's biggest population centers, Shivers in Houston, No. 1 in size, and Yarborough in Dallas, No. 2.

Experts believe the total vote tomorrow will exceed the 1,348,000 ballots cast in the first primary. They base this on heavier absentee places.

Shivers beat Yarborough by more than 300,000 votes in the 1952 primary, before the governor led the state Democratic party in its open backing of President Eisenhower.

The governor's lead in the first primary this year was 23,787 votes. A total of 36,320 votes for two minor candidates, Arlon B. (Cyclone) Davis of Dallas and J. J. Holmes of Austin, prevented either of the main contenders from getting the required simple majority.

Market Snaps Four-Day Dip

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—In the quietest session in more than two months, the stock market advanced today in a moderate manner.

The rise was not vigorous by any means, but it did snap off a four-day decline.

Gains were frequent in major divisions and some went to between 1 and 3 points. Losses weren't impressive.

The aircrafts, steels and oils advanced well along with many individual issues. Railroads were depressed at one time during the day but managed to hold unchanged on balance at the close.

Army Denies Bias Prompted Suspensions

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Army said today that an inquiry had failed to establish any substance to allegations that racial prejudice had motivated security suspensions at the Ft. Monmouth, N. J., Signal Corps center.

The issue was raised by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith in a long report given to the Army last February. The League asked Army Secretary Stevens to look into the situation.

The League document placed the blame for many suspensions of civilians at the Signal Corps center on a civilian security officer and said there was "sufficient evidence and persuasive hearsay" to conclude that that official "personally is an anti-Semite."

The League report noted also that 38 of 42 civilians suspended at one time or another at Ft. Monmouth were Jewish.

The Army's final reply to the League was contained in a letter to Henry Schultz, League official of New York City. The letter, signed by Lewis E. Berry Jr., deputy Army counselor, said the Army's review of the report and its own independent investigation showed that whereas it was true that most of the civilians suspended were Jewish the Army was "unable to establish that religious bias had a bearing upon the activities of the security officer or other personnel responsible for the initiation or processing of security cases."

The Anti-Defamation League countered that the Army had not replied directly to the issues. A spokesman said the Army report was vague, gave no details of the nature of the investigation or its findings.

Leader Levels Attack On Utility Law

HARRISBURG, Aug. 27 (AP)—Sen. George M. Leader, Democratic candidate for governor, said today that "disgraceful inadequacies" of the Public utility law has cost "billions of dollars in higher costs for consumers."

"There is scarcely a citizen in Pennsylvania whose living or business costs are not higher today because of utility rate increases which do violence to the public at large," Leader said in a campaign statement.

In another statement, Leader spelled out a five-point farm program. He said he was concerned with what he termed "the weird and illogical way in which Republican management of agriculture has made farm prices go down and consumer prices go up."

On the utility issue, Leader said that "no member sits today on the PUC except with the approval and blessing of the very utilities the PUC is supposed to control.

"The constant grabbing at the diminishing financial returns of the average citizen is an evil political scandal of monstrous, unbelievable proportion.

"Every action of the PUC is a tacit admission that it is at the beck and call of the big utilities, which in turn have a major stake in the Republican party."

MORE THAN 800 EXHIBITS were placed in Outdoor Art Exhibit yesterday in Stroudsburg, with more than 50 artists represented. More artists and exhibits were expected when the show continues today. Above, Pat Main, Philadelphia, winding up a stint as a judge's secretary in courthouse, discusses paintings of Dr. Harry Pifer, Stroudsburg RD3, with blue-jeaned artist himself. Horst Names H. G. Sanborn To Committee

H. GLENN SANBORN JR., general manager of Worthington Mower Co., has been named to the GOP State Finance Committee to serve under Chairman William H. Worrilow Sr., of Lebanon.

Appointment was made yesterday by Miles Horst, state Republican chairman.

Other regional appointees include:

Andrey J. Sordoni, Wilkes-Barre, state secretary of commerce, and James Rutherford, of Honesdale.

Women Won't Vote Blindly, Says Nominee

HARRISBURG, Aug. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Gaynelle M. Dixon, Republican candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs, said today women will play an important part in the Nov. 2 election but it is a "rank insult to their intelligence" to infer that they will vote blindly.

"The misstatements of the Democrats, I am certain, will carry no appeal to the ever-growing number of women in the commonwealth taking an active interest in this campaign," Mrs. Dixon said in a statement.

"When the thousands of women enter the polling places, they will not vote on the basis of empty words. Rather, they will ballot on conclusions reached after careful study of the issues.

"I know that what has been accomplished by the Republican Party in state and nation will decide the issue in our favor."

Only a day before, Miss Genevieve Blatt, Democratic candidate for Internal Affairs Secretary, had predicted that women will not only be active but vote for the Democratic ticket.

800 Exhibits Displayed At Sidewalk Art Show

THIS YEAR'S second sidewalk art show was off to a "highly successful" start yesterday with more than 50 artists exhibiting, show officials said.

Miss Olivia Dreher, co-chairman for the show, estimated that more than 800 paintings, photographs and other art objects were placed on display between 10 a.m. and 10 p.m., the show's opening and closing hours.

Artists from all over Monroe County and other sections of the Pocono Mountains, as well as several from Lehighton, Scranton, Bangor and other Pennsylvania regions, entered their work in the show.

The paintings—most of which are for sale—are on display on both sides of Seventh St. between Main and Monroe and in Courthouse Square.

Two on-the-spot painting demonstrations were given yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Rachel Bray of Bangor did an oil painting from a model while Mrs. Gertrude Rugh of Swiftwater painted a still life.

Last night audiences were entertained with a special showing of colored slides. The painting demonstrations and colored-slide shows will be given again tonight.

Today is the second and final day of the exhibit. The hours will be the same: from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

All visitors to the area, Summer guests and art enthusiasts from surrounding communities are invited to attend the show, Miss Dreher said.

Oehlert Funeral Rites Conducted

FUNERAL services were held at 10:30 a.m. yesterday at Warner funeral home for the late A. A. Oehlert.

Rev. P. N. Wohlsen officiated. Interment was made in Rosemont Cemetery in Bloomsburg. Pallbearers were John Pyle, Robert Miller, Edward Smith and George Stoeckel.

State Seeks Bids On Bangor Road

THE STATE Department of Highways at Harrisburg invited bids yesterday for a road project in Bangor.

The project calls for the construction of 0.46 of a mile of crushed aggregate base with bituminous surface on the Bangor-East Bangor road, within the Bangor Borough limits, and one metal plate pipe arch culvert to replace an existing bridge there. The bids are to be submitted on Sept. 17.

Greek and Roman children had dolls, hoops, skipping ropes, hobby horses and kites.

Motor Club Meeting Set

OFFICERS and directors of the Pocono Mountains Motor Club will meet Monday night at 8 at the office at the Penn-Stroud building. Plans will be discussed for the membership campaign which runs through September and October. Object is to reach the 500,000 goal for Pennsylvania.
